

FOLLOWING UP CLUES TO MAIL SACK THEFT

Government Detectives Are Here and Local Officers Are Busy on the Sensational Case.

ENERGETIC HUNT FOR COLORED SUSPECT

The News Review's exclusive report of the daring theft of a mail bag containing thousands of dollars in checks and money orders caused a great sensation last evening. Everywhere remarks on the nerve displayed by the thieves could be heard. From present indications it will be some time before the mystery of the disappearance of the mail sack is solved, though the publication by the News Review is already bringing clues to light.

Two detectives of Washington, D. C., in the employment of the government are in the city. They have obtained clues which they think will result in the capture of the daring individuals. A careful investigation of the territory lying between this city and Smith's Ferry has been made and it has been found to be a fact that there were letters placed in the bag at Smith's Ferry and also that they were missed upon the same day that the non-arrival of bag was discovered.

The theory advanced that the theft was committed at the depot of this city has been abolished. Some were under the impression that the mail that is shipped to East Liverpool from Pittsburgh on "41" is not thrown off at the depot, but carried on to Wellsville and there brought back by the early morning train. Taking that view, it was surmised that possibly there was a new postal clerk on the route on the night of October 6, and he not being aware that the mail is transferred at Wellsville, throw it off here, giving a robber an excellent opportunity to carry it off without detection.

The mail carried on 41 is thrown off here and is placed in the hands of Night Watchman Maple. This fact dispels the idea that the bag was stolen while not under protection at the depot.

The coffee colored negro who applied to Cashier Harry T. Hall with one of the missing checks is thought to be but one of the gang who succeeded in capturing the bag. From meager clues picked up by the police at central station the officers strongly believe that he had several confederates and are positive that had he been successful in his attempt to cash the check at the Dollar Savings bank that the entire gang would have worked the city for all it was worth. The shrewd cashier foiling the man in his bold attempt probably saved many less experienced men from becoming victims.

Many commendatory phrases have been spoken of the News Review for its publication of the facts, resulting as they have, in placing the business men of the city on their guard. An experienced man could not be taken in on one of the checks, but there are many who fall easy prey to a sharper who understands the handling of a note, draft or check.

Through the publication it is also thought that the guilty parties will be apprehended. Every man, woman and child is now aware of the robbery and in consequence on the outlook for any suspicious actions on the part of a man answering the description of the colored man.

Although not working in conjunction with the imported detectives the local police force is on the alert and have run down several clues tipped off to them as the result of the story being made public.

Upon being informed of the colored

BREWER'S TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

AN APPEAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS LOOKED FOR.

Not Likely That the Case Will Reach Trial at Present Term of Court.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special).—It is doubtful whether the case of Ohio against Colonel Albert Brewer, who is under indictment for murder in the second degree, will be tried at this term of court. The indictment was secured under the old jury law which was declared several weeks ago and will doubtless stand as a decision has been handed down by Judge Duncan, at Findlay, O., to the effect that an indictment returned under the old jury law is illegal, and in order to reach a conviction that will stand the tests of the higher court it will be necessary to secure another under the law recently enacted at this extraordinary session of the legislature.

Colonel Brewer was engaged in the pottery business at Tiffin, O., for a number of years, coming to Ohio from Trenton, where he was associated in business with his brother, the late John Hart Brewer, when he was a member of the firm of the Ott & Brewer Pottery company. Colonel Brewer was a member of Governor Asa S. Bushnell's private staff and served several terms as member of the state fish and game commission, retiring from that body last year.

One afternoon early in June Brewer and a dairymen named Luther Hershey became embroiled in a saloon brawl in Tiffin. Both were under the influence of liquor and during the melee there was a promiscuous interchange of glassware from the counter. Hershey was struck in the head by a bottle, the blow crushing his skull. He left the saloon, walked some distance and sank to the ground unconscious. He was taken home in a carriage where he died without returning to consciousness. Brewer was arrested and charged with his death. He was immediately released on $5,000 bond and his case continued until the October term of court. He spent the

COUNTER PROPOSITION

Prepared By the Business Men Will Be Submitted to Clerks for Action.

A well attended meeting of the Business Men's association was held last night, and as was anticipated by the News Review yesterday the sole topic of discussion was the closing regulations to govern the retail clerks. The business men are not disposed to accept the original agreement and so expressed themselves last night.

However, they prepared a counter proposition which varies but very little from the original, and which they think will be accepted by the clerks at a special meeting to be held by union No. 133 this evening.

DEPUTY SUPERVISORS

Are Meeting Today to See That Ballots Are Properly Prepared.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special).—The board of deputy supervisors of election for Columbiana county is holding a meeting in the library room of the court house this afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting is to see that the names of all candidates are properly entered on all the tickets and to fill out the list of judges and clerks as far as possible for all the precincts in the county.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special).—G. W. Cisco and Miss Laura Clark both of Negley, were married in Probate Judge Boone's office this morning by Judge Lodge Riddle, of Lisbon.

DESPERATE MEN

For Whom West Virginia Officers Are Searching the Woods Near Chester.

On a quiet but determined hunt two detectives of Wheeling have been in the city and Chester since Tuesday evening, trying to locate four criminals who escaped from the Moundsville penitentiary last week.

The detectives have spent most of their time in Chester, as they firmly believe that the quartet is in hiding on that side of the river. They have scoured the hollow back of Rock Springs park, and although they have not as yet discovered any clues, they firmly believe that the men are located somewhere in the valley. A more ideal hiding place could not be found, and as many an escaped prisoner has been tracked in that direction it is quite likely that the detectives are on the right trail.

Chief Thompson stated last evening that he believes the valley has become notorious, and that its reputation will be the cause of many persons seeking it as a place of refuge. The detectives have not made themselves known to the police of the city, but the latter were given the tip last evening that the smooth sleuths are in the locality. They were in conversation with a well known Chester man yesterday who is acquainted with one of the escaped convicts, but it is said could gain no definite information as to the location of the hunted men.

The whereabouts of the men are being sought with diligence by the penitentiary authorities, and if the detectives succeed in landing them they will be the recipients of much praise.

The convicts are John Renforth, of Parkersburg, aged 18 years, who was sentenced on March 15 to serve five years for voluntary manslaughter; Calvin Grose, of Nicholas county, W. Va., aged 19 years, who was sentenced December 21, 1901, to serve five years for a postoffice robbery; William Palmer, of Columbus, Ky., who was sentenced in December, 1901, to serve 10 years for housebreaking. He is 33 years old; William Gardner, aged 29 years, who was sentenced to serve 10 years for robbery.

All of these men are desperate characters and no doubt will put up a strong battle when corralled.

TO PENITENTIARY AND REFORMATORY

Hutton and Cooley, Youthful Burglars of This City, Were Sentenced.

FIVE YEARS FOR FORMER

Story of Their Daring Escapade as Revealed in Court—Other Matters of a Criminal Nature Receiving Judicial Attention.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special).—The jury returned a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon in the case of Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley both of East Liverpool, charged with breaking into and attempting to rob the Fairbanks store in that city. Hutton was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and Cooley to the reformatory at Mansfield, where he will have to remain a year.

Hutton and Cooley, though the former is only 20 and the latter not that old, are said to be crooks, and have been in the toils before. The crime was committed on the night of July 18. Homer Fairbanks had reached his home at 9 o'clock that night, when he was informed that some one was breaking into his store. He entered the front door of his place of business and found the back door open. The burglars had been frightened away. With several others he was investigating to see what was missing when Hutton and Cooley entered and assisted in the search. Later when all but Fairbanks had left they again appeared, and pointed a revolver at him. He put them to flight with a hatchet. The defense tried to show that the boys were having sport with Fairbanks.

Cooley's mother was at the trial and was much affected by the verdict. Hutton has the appearance of a hardened criminal. He said he could not give reason why sentence should not be passed, but complained of his treatment in the jail.

Herry Mellen, of Wellsville, was brought into court this morning charged with breaking into Stephen Ridinger's stable in that town and stealing some merchandise. His attorney, Charles Boyd, of Wellsville, made a motion to quash the indictment which was overruled. The case will probably be heard today.

The case of Edward Allen, arrested at Salem early in September for pocket picking, will probably be heard this afternoon. Allen is charged with having taken a pocketbook containing money and papers from the pocket of W. D. Howell in a crowd at a race meet in Salem. He was bound over and has been in jail ever since. It is said that he is a professional thief.

$150 MORE GIVEN STRIKING MINERS

Trades Council Will Send No Delegate to the A. F. of L. Convention.

THE CLERKS' PETITION

Action of the Council Not Relished by the Grocer and Butcher Clerks. They Say Work is Becoming Scarce in Their Trade.

No better evidence could be given of the fact that East Liverpool's wage workers are prospering than was developed last night at the meeting of trades and labor council, when $150 was ordered drawn from the treasury to be forwarded at once to the treasurer of the United Mine Workers' union to support the anthracite miners in their strike.

The movement is not going to end there either, for if the strike continues the local central labor union is prepared to donate more liberally as the necessity demands.

When the question of sending a delegate to the annual meeting of the A. F. of L. came up last night it was recalled by a number of the delegates that the expense of a trip to New Orleans would be very great and it was thought that the money would do more good in the hands of the strikers than by sending a delegate to the convention, and the $150 was drawn.

A communication from the United Garment Workers' union, of Peoria, stated that there was trouble on with the J. Clapp & Son Co., and asked that the goods of the concern be let alone until it was adjusted. The communication was filed, and a committee composed of Charles Kontner, Al Boice and Wash Williams was appointed to ascertain if any of the unfair goods were being handled in this city.

A communication was also received from the trustees of the Industrial Home, located at Moline, Ill., which had been elected by organized labor stating that the home was in need of funds to wipe out a debt of $14,800. The local council donated $5 for the fund.

Retail grocer and butcher clerks' union No. 292 presented a lengthy communication with reference to the proposed move to license hucksters. The communication stated that on account of the increased number of hucksters and the growth of their business the employers of union clerks were suffering, and that several of the members of this union had been laid off owing to lack of business. They urged that council reconsider its determination to oppose the licensing of peddlers. A heated discussion resulted, during which strong language was used, but no action was taken save the receiving of the communication.

Under reports of delegates those

PISTOL SHOTS FIRED AND TERROR REIGNED ON A SOUTHSIDE CAR

Drunken Negroes Got Into a Battle Crossing the Bridge Causing a Panic Among the Passengers.

As the result of a terrible fight there was pandemonium on a South Side street car last evening at about 8 o'clock while the car was crossing the bridge enroute to this city. Two revolver shots were fired, many blows were passed and the lives of every passenger abroad were for a few minutes in extreme danger.

The principals in the melee were three negroes, Atley Feamister, of Charleroi, Pa.; Charles Lee, of Chester and "Slim" Storm, of this city. Over a warm dispute, started as soon as the men entered the car, the fight occurred. Feamister and Lee have been on the outs for several weeks and the mixup was the culmination of their trouble. The former gave vent to vile and insulting language and Lee, not being of the kind that will be imposed upon, especially when in the presence of a crowd, jumped from his seat in a state of rage and attempted to land a solar plexus on the form of his adversary.

Feamister was too quick for him, however, and before Lee had time to fully realize the desperate form of the affair he pulled a revolver and aiming directly at Lee's head fired twice in rapid succession. Neither of the bullets took effect but instead went crashing through the car window.

Women passengers screamed loudly and hysterically appealed to Conductor Hogue for protection. He was powerless to help them, as they soon perceived, and one of the ladies, frightened terribly, ran to the rear door and tumbled out into space. The others endeavored to do likewise, but could not make their way past the men engaged in the fight. In terror they sat down and their wailings were most pitiful.

Lee, the man used as a target, also from the tailors' union reported that one of its members, who is employed at the Karnott shop, had refused to attach the label of the union to garments made by him. The employer was indifferent about the matter, and a committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the tailors in an effort to show the member and his employer that it would be worth their while to have the label appear upon every garment turned out. The committee is composed of Vice President Henry Moore, William Conklin and A. E. Bertelle.

The president announced that owing to a vacancy upon the organization committee it had been deemed advisable to reorganize the body. Charles Kontner, who was recently commissioned as an organizer for the A. F. of L., was added to the committee. This will render it impossible for a repetition of the very annoying occurrence of a few weeks ago, when the fight of the committee to form a new organization was questioned.

The bakers again brought up the question of union label bread. It was stated that another non-union concern had become established in the city and the delegates were instructed to call the attention of their locals to the fact and ask them to buy only label bread.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the report of President McConnell, who represented the council at the meeting of the Ohio Federation of Labor, was laid over. It will be a special order of business next time.

After considerable difficulty, in which the constitutionality of the move was questioned, T. J. Duffy was endorsed for a political office, that of congressman in the Eighteenth district.

DISSATISFACTION IS NOW EXPRESSED

Many of the Legislators Do Not Like the Board Plan as Approved by Conferees.

WAS FINALLY EVOLVED

The Boards of Public Safety and Public Service Will Practically Control All City Affairs Not Under the Jurisdiction of Council.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 16.—There is considerable dissatisfaction expressed by both Republican and Democratic members over the code bill agreed upon by the legislative conference committee. Lieutenant Governor Gordon has pronounced it "an illogical and absurd proposition." While there is some basis for the criticism that is being indulged in it must be borne in mind that the committee was obliged to do something, and it determined upon the board plan as the simplest solution of the difficulty.

The conferees were deadlocked and the only proposition upon which there seemed to be any chance for agreement was the one providing for the board plan of government. Hasty action was necessary, and this is what was evolved: Board of public service, being of from one to five members, at the option of council, to be elected by the people, the number not being changed for five years after having been fixed; board of public safety, bi-partisan, to be either two or four members, appointed by the sinking commissioners, the latter body to be bi-partisan and to be appointed by the mayor. These two boards will practically control all departments and affairs of the city, aside from legislative matters which are placed in the hands of council, which body will have little else to look after.

The committee has been perfecting the details of government of the boards since yesterday, prescribing, one functions of the departments, etc., and will it is expected place its report before both bodies Friday. It will probably be adopted, as the members are anxious to terminate without further delay what has been an uninteresting session. They want to return home and look after their private business.

The senate defeated the Barnham bill, which sought to repeal the Jones act light law passed last winter, doing away with arc lights at railway crossings. The vote was 16 to 9, being less than a constitutional majority. Senator Royer, of Seneca, offered a resolution to investigate alleged conspiracies and combinations of coal operators and railways. It went over under the rules. It provides for the appointment of an investigating commission; the fixing, either by a commission or by direct legislation, the maximum charge at which coal may be sold by operators; the enactment of a compulsory arbitration law to settle disputes between capital and labor; an extra session of the legislature to consider these matters, the time to convene being fixed at Monday, October 27, at 10 a. m.

The Senate adopted the Warner resolution providing for the participation of this state in the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the ship canal to Lake Superior. The governor and staff, lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and five members from the senate and five from the house are to attend, the expenses to be paid by the state. Mr. Dunham, of Toledo, introduced a bill in the house to correct a mistake in the law passed last winter permitting savings banks and loan companies to do a safe deposit and trust business.

Mr. Berghegger, of Hamilton, introduced a bill to give boards of education authority to issue bonds to the extent of two-tenths of 1 per cent of the total valuation of the property in the school district. This would do away with the necessity of asking the legislature to pass special bond bills. Mr. Price offered a bill giving manufacturing companies the right of eminent domain. The bill is drawn in the interest of the independent coal companies in the Hocking valley which have difficulty in securing outlets to railroads.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Victor W. Owens And Miss Mary Marsh United For Life Last Evening.

Victor W. Owens and Miss Mary Marsh were married at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marsh, on Maple avenue. Quite a number of friends and relatives were present.

Rev. George W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church, solemnized the ceremony. Misses Hazel and Agnes Marsh, sisters of the bride, were ribbon girls and Mrs. Mame Farrar played the wedding march.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white batiste and carried a bouquet of beautiful roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony she distributed the roses among the young ladies, and explained the significance of the gift, that the recipients of the favor would in a short time have husbands.

The house decorations were green and white and in the parlor was an arch of roses, with an inverted floral horse shoe, under which the young couple stood while the minister spoke the words that united them for life.

The groom is a well known and popular young potter and a son of Edward Owen. The bride is a winsome and accomplished young lady.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens went to Pittsburgh today to spend a few days.

JUST PLAIN BOOZE

And Not Poison Was All That Ailed John Williamson Yesterday.

John Williamson, of Erie street, East End, got on a drunk Tuesday night and yesterday morning did not make his appearance at the breakfast table at the usual hour. The Jackman family, with whom he boards, became alarmed and entered his room, where they found him apparently sleeping very soundly. All their efforts to arouse him proved futile and physicians were hastily summoned. Drs. Marshall and Calhoun responded and after an hour's hard work succeeded in restoring him to consciousness.

Williamson told the family that he had taken morphine with suicidal intent. Both the attending physicians are positive, however, that it was a plain case of too much booze.

Two Trials of Strength.

A striking machine man and a sandwich man at Columbian park were the principals in fist and skull fight at the park last night about 7 o'clock. The sandwich man had tried his strength on his opponent's machine and refused to pay. This the machine man resented and the sandwich man then tried his strength on him. There was a lively scrap for a few minutes and the sandwich man got the best of it. No complaints were made to the police.

Seemed Too Officious.

One of the special park policemen from Steubenville created a disturbance last night at the Pastime club dance in Larkins & Ferguson's hall by attempting to arrest Frank Fern. Fern's only offense seems to have been twirling a stick and he refused to submit to the special. His friends also interfered in his behalf and there would have been a lively time had the Steubenville man persisted in overstepping his authority.

Circle-Whealden.

Mr. Charles Whealden and Miss Laura Circle were married last night at 9 o'clock by Rev. N. M. Crowe at the Second Presbyterian parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Whealden are newcomers to the East End, but they have a host of friends who are extending congratulations. They will go to housekeeping on Pennsylvania avenue.

Want a Peace Bond.

James Fulton, who was assaulted by Saloonkeeper Hopkins Tuesday during the latter's drunken rampage on Mulberry street, told a News Review reporter today that he would have Hopkins placed under a peace bond if he could receive the necessary evidence. Some of the witnesses are reluctant to appear against Hopkins.

Dyspepsia AND Liver Disease CURED BY DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I was weak, nervous and dizzy, with a fainting sensation when walking," writes Jesse Childress, Esq., of Samuel, Sullivan Co., Tenn. "Could not walk any distance; always felt bad after eating; felt as though something was sticking in my throat, always uneasiness in stomach. Doctored with three physicians but they did not relieve me. I grew worse and used everything I could think of; was nearly ready to give up and then some one told me that Dr. Pierce's medicine was good, so I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken seven bottles of that now and am as stout as ever, and enjoying health as much as ever before. I worked all summer and this winter as much as any one. My case was liver disease and nervous dyspepsia of which your medicine has cured me. In September 1902 my weight was about 95 pounds, now it is 195. Please accept my sincere thanks."

Another Scarlet Fever Case.

The residence of Samuel Herron on Altura street, in Helena, was quarantined this morning. Mr. Herron's step-daughter, 8 years of age, has the scarlet fever in a mild form.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Irene, the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Willis Chamberlain, is very seriously ill.

R. C. Howard, of the East End Hardware company, is laid up with a carbuncle on his ankle.

W. A. Thoms, of Inverness, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Ida M. Clark last night and left today for Pittsburgh.

Miss Odessa Owens, of Globe street returned home yesterday from Gallipoli, where she had been making an extended visit with friends.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often undined in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's. Get Green's special almanac.

requires physical and mental ability of a high degree to withstand its hard labors. The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. Such was the case of Mail Carrier S. F. Sweinhart, of Huntsville, Ala., he says:

"An attack of pneumonia left me with muscular rheumatism, headache, and pains that seemed to be all over me. I was scarcely able to move for about a month when I decided to give Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and Nerve Plasters a trial. In three days I was again on my route and in two weeks I was free from pain and gaining in flesh and strength.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY

Steubenville Eleven And Walsh's Team Will Battle On West End Grounds.

Arrangements have been completed for a foot ball game to be played in West End park next Saturday afternoon by Manager Walsh's team and the crack team of Steubenville. The local team has been under hard practice for several weeks and will without doubt put up a strong game. There are about twenty men from whom the eleven will be chosen by Manager Walsh and he is not yet decided as to who the players will be.

Steubenville always has had a good team and it is said will bear the same reputation this winter.

Young Talbott was not dangerously hurt, although unconscious for some time.

Mines to Supply Toronto.

The Calumet Coal company has just been organized at Toronto by H. H. Smith and Samuel McAdoo and a number of other local capitalists and the deals are now being closed for nearly 200 acres of valuable coal lands adjoining that city on the west. The work of opening the mines will begin at once and they expect to have the coal on the market in two weeks to supply the town.

THE MARVELOUS CURES

Now Being Performed Free by the British Doctors

Eminent specialists from the English Medical Institute, by request of numerous patients under their treatment in this country, have established a permanent branch of the Institute in East Liverpool. In order to become rapidly acquainted with the sick and afflicted, these eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free (medicines excepted) for three months to all invalids who call upon them before Oct. 25th. These services include examination, advice and all minor surgical operations.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities and guarantee all curable cases undertaken. Weakness of either sex, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, heart, lung, stomach, kidney and bladder affections. All diseases of the skin, blood, brain and nervous system. Gout, cancer, without pain, epilepsy, rheumatism and rectal diseases. Impaired vitality, knotted veins and shrunken conditions are positively cured by their new treatment.

All things considered, the fair being held at Columbian park this week is a success. It demonstrates that the people of East Liverpool stand ready and willing to patronize an up-to-date racing and agricultural exhibition and leads to the hope that the efforts now being put forth to make such a show a regular thing each year will succeed. It is often remarked that there is no money in fairs, and that is generally true, when they are considered per se; but they help to bring business and to advertise the town and are capable of being made an agency that will benefit exhibitors and furnish healthy amusement of all patrons. The News Review would be glad to see the East Liverpool Agricultural society regularly organized and doing business. Its promoters can rest assured that they need only furnish a creditable exhibition to secure a large patronage for the annual fair, and their grounds can be made useful at other seasons in a great variety of other ways.

The specter of militarism is vanishing so fast that the ants no longer keep up their hollow pretense of fearing it. Orders are about to be issued by the war department that the regular army be reduced to the minimum size authorized by law, 59,600 men. With the cessation of outbreaks in the Philippines, it is believed that this can be done safely. The present size of the army is about 67,000 men. The cavalry and artillery regiments will be reduced to the minimum basis, except around Ft. Leavenworth, where the commands will be kept of full size for educational reasons. Less than one soldier to 1,000 population in the United States is not such an enormous standing army that we are in any immediate danger of military oppression.

Election day is near. It is time for systematic work toward getting out the Republican vote. That accomplished, nothing else is necessary. Columbiana county, being safely Republican at all seasons, is to receive little attention at the hands of the state campaigners, who believe, with good reason, that their best efforts can be more profitably put forth elsewhere. But this fact should not deter the local and county committees from hard and earnest work; rather, it should inspire them to undertake it. Wake the people up and get them to the polls. Columbiana county Republicans can and ought to make a grand showing this year.

Both President Roosevelt and Mitchell are to be congratulated on the plan they have hit upon for the settlement of the coal strike. It will win. Organized labor gets a representative on the board of arbitration. The end of the protracted warfare is in sight, and the whole country breathes easier. President Roosevelt deserves the thanks of the whole people for the skill, diplomacy and consummate ability with which he has managed the difficult task, which he voluntarily undertook.

Under Tom Johnson, the "Home Rule" mayor of Cleveland, nearly 2,500 men have been put in office without the advice, consent or votes of the people. Moreover, taxation has increased at a startling rate. Tom may think this a good showing, but the rest of Ohio is not likely to exhibit any remarkable eagerness to have this sort of rule extended.

Senator Hanna is back in campaign work again. His illness kept him idle but four days, and Democrats who were wishing and hoping for his retirement from the field are a disappointed lot. They might as well get used to disappointments, as there is a tremendous one in store for them on November 4.

Athletics are fast becoming part of the higher education for women. Wellesley has announced a field day for November 3, and Smith and Radcliffe have set their seal of approval upon sports, as Vassar has already done.

A Lisbon newspaper speaks of "every saloonist in East Liverpool being under indictment for illicit selling." Living so near the court house that editor ought to be able to get the news straight, but he does not seem to have the knack of doing so.

There is too much work connected with the old fashioned method of doing business, and train robbers have now taken to holding coal trains, certain of getting something valuable for their efforts.

The navy is useful even when Uncle Sam has no fighting to do. As long as the South American republics keep up their revolutionary habits American warships are not likely to lack for occupation.

Democratic politicians in Pennsylvania are predicting 125,000 majority for Pattison. Pennsylvania is sometimes uncertain politically, but never so uncertain as Democratic predictions.

Tillman says the way to stop the coal strike is to hang somebody. If the hanging could begin and end with the man giving such advice, there would be little protest raised.

The hunting season opened in Pennsylvania yesterday and the coroners swept out their offices and prepared for a busy season.

Baer will growl, but he must take his medicine.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

F. E. Oyster and sister Ida went to Pittsburg this morning on business.

Miss Ruby Smurthwaite is ill at her home on St. George street, in the East End.

George Thomas has returned from New York where he spent a few days on business.

James Cutler, of Lisbon, was the guest yesterday of William Arb. of 137 Lisbon street.

Miss Gertrude Baker, librarian of the Carnegie Public Library spent the day in Pittsburg yesterday.

Mrs. John Short, who was visiting Steubenville friends last week, returned home Saturday quite sick.

Supt. J. E. Henderson, of the New Cumberland schools, was visiting the East Liverpool schools yesterday.

Mrs. Lydia Maxwell, of Huntington, and sister Mrs. McKay, of Salem, are visiting Mr. Claude Nease and sisters, of Thompson avenue.

AT THE THEATER

The mere announcement of the return next week of John A. Himmelein's big comedy company, "The Ideals," will be pleasant news to the thousands of friends that have been made by this organization in the past seasons. For ten years this company has been an annual visitor, and there is a grave question if any attraction that visits this city during the regular theatrical season is more popular, more prosperous, and more deservedly so. Each succeeding year finds the company larger and stronger, the list of plays better, the scenic equipment augmented, the band and orchestra, if anything, better than ever.

Augustus Thomas' new drama, "Arizona," which comes to the Grand opera house Friday night, October 17, is said to be the best play of recent production. It ran for 150 nights at the Herald Square theater with "Sag Harbor," and "Roger Brothers in Centers for popular favor. Mr. Thomas' play outran them except "Florodora" in point of time and drew crowded houses even with the awful opposition of Maude Adams and Sarah Bernhardt, in the two rival productions of "L'Aiglon."

Saturday's attraction at the Grand opera house, matinee and night, is "The Fatal Wedding," a new four act comedy drama from the pen of Theo. Kremer. The scenes are laid in New York, and treat of the machinations of an adventuress who separates a husband from his wife in order to win him for her own. The play is replete in scenes of pathos, comedy, sensational developments and climaxes.

Public Court Trial.

A Valuable Rooster Stolen, in which leading citizens will participate. On Monday evening, October 27th, in the opera house, the public will have an opportunity to witness one of the most truly enjoyable entertainments that has been given in this city for many a day.

"The Missouri Girl" was greeted by a big house at the Grand last night. It is a good play of its class and the company that presented it last night was a clever one and pleased the patrons.

man's actions at the bank on Tuesday evening Officer Morris immediately started out in search and scoured every dive and section of the city where it was thought most likely the man could be found. At one time the officer came very close to laying hands on the man. Going to Robinson's saloon on Second street he was informed that a man tallying in every detail to the description given had just a few moments previous left the place. He had entered the saloon, looked nervously around and without saying a word retreated.

Where the man went the officer could not learn, but thinking that he had probably gone to the fair grounds in the East End where a number of colored men are harboring for the week he boarded a car for Columbian park and scrutinized closely every man of color on the grounds but to no avail.

Numerous inquiries were made at the local banks this morning for missing checks and all of those who have failed to receive checks supposed to have been mailed on or about the time of the robbery are satisfied that they were among those that did not reach the bankers.

Those who applied to the banks were instructed to write to the senders and request duplicates. This will be done, as there is no risk whatever to run, the bankers of the city being well able to give protection.

The check presented to Cashier Hall was first issued by A. A. Watson, of Rochester, he making it payable to the Olive Stove works, of that city. It was then deposited in the Rochester National bank and was later delivered to the Second National bank of Pittsburgh. This bank then mailed it to the Potters' bank of this city. The check was written for $110.49. Mr. Hall will return the check to the Second National bank at Pittsburgh and thereby save much red tape.

Large Consignment.

Attached to the local freight which arrived in this city today was a car packed from floor to ceiling with the product of the Heinz establishment at Pittsburgh. It was the largest consignment of this class ever received in the city, and a large force was busy nearly all of the forenoon depositing the goods at the store of Geon Bros. to whom it was shipped.

WAR SECRETARY WRITES

To Congressman Taylor in Reference to Wellsville's Request About the Dam.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd yesterday received a letter from Hon. R. W. Taylor. The communication contained a copy of a letter sent to Mr. Taylor from the secretary of war, Hon. Elihu Root, which bears upon the topic of the location of dam No. 8. Mr. Taylor's letter follows:

"I beg to enclose herewith a copy of a letter received from the secretary of war respecting the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river which will explain itself. If I can be of further assistance in this regard do not hesitate to command me."

The letter from Hon. Elihu Root to Congressman Taylor is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.

"Hon. R. W. Taylor, M. C., Lisbon, O.

"Dear Sir—In answer to your letter of the 26th ultimo and the 7th inst., concerning the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river in the vicinity of Wellsville, O., I beg to inform you that the local engineer officer, Captain W. E. Craighill, to whom the matter was referred, reports under date of the 2d inst., as follows:

"The survey for the location of dam No. 8, Ohio river, was started as soon after the money became available as the men and outfit could be gotten together, and nothing further can reasonably be done to hasten it. The engineers for the city of Wellsville, O., are about to send me drawings showing the location of the proposed water works intake, and I have no doubt that I can tell them at once, from our examination of the drawings, whether or not their location will interfere with the construction of the lock and dam."

"Very respectfully,

"ELIHU ROOT,

REUNION OF THIRD O. V. I.

Six Members Have Answered the Last Roll Call Last Year—Officers Chosen.

The twenty-seventh annual reunion of the Third Ohio volunteer infantry was held in Hillsville Tuesday. Seventeen members of the regiment were present and during the day talked over events of years ago when on the battle field. President George B. Aten entertained his old comrades at dinner, and also after the afternoon meeting entertained them at supper.

In the afternoon meeting a communication was read from Comrade Piper. In the communication he called attention to a report that the state of Kentucky had erected a monument to the confederate dead at Perryville, Ky., ignoring the union dead buried there.

The surviving members of this regiment think that Kentucky had more union soldiers in the battle of Perryville than the confederates. After several had expressed their opinion on the matter a motion was finally made and passed that the secretary be instructed to notify Mr. Piper to investigate and report at the next meeting. If the report proves true this regiment will ask the state of Ohio to erect a monument on the field to the Ohio union soldiers who were killed in this battle of Perryville.

A report was made by the secretary that during the past year six members of the regiment had died. They are: C. C. Aughinbaugh, of Company K; James Conkle, of Company H; Jonathan Ellis, of Company A; J. B. Moore, of Company B, and Mike Mann of Company I.

At the evening session of the reunion the following officers were elected to act during the ensuing year: Gilbert Snyder, Zanesville, president; Pierce Kirby, of East Liverpool, vice president; T. P. O'Shea, of Cleveland secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the next place of meeting should be either at Perryville, Ky., Stone River, Tenn., or Chattanooga, Tenn.

FIVE DELEGATES

To Attend River Convention Will Be Named By Council At Next Meeting.

Mayor W. L. Fogo, of this city, is in receipt of the following communication from Edward McCready, secretary of the Business Men's League, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

"The boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and similar organizations, which have already, or which may hereafter appoint delegates to the convention of the Ohio River Improvement Association which is to be held in this city, November 11 and 12, will please promptly notify the undersigned of the number appointed and the number likely to attend, and oblige."

In reply Mayor Fogo wrote Mr. McCready and informed him that at least five delegates from this city would attend the convention. These five delegates, for there will be that exact number, will be appointed at the next regular meeting of council, which will be held on October 29.

SUITS IN ATTACHMENT

Brought in 'Squire Johnston's Court in Chester on Two Small Claims.

A case in attachment was brought yesterday against James L. Lowe in Justice Johnston's court on a claim of $25 for board by Mrs. Minerva Russell. The case is set for trial November 3. Lowe is a tin mill worker from Parkersburg who has been in pretty hard luck.

Another suit in attachment was brought by Samuel Bloom against G. V. Clendenning, the claim amounting to $16.75 for merchandise. This case will also be heard November 3.

Awaiting Casing.

The well drilling by Leasure on the John Snowden farm is at rest awaiting the casing. Ed Stewart, a driller on the well, went to Pittsburgh last evening to look after it.

John Beck, a tin mill employe, while working on the night turn, had his left leg badly cut by coming in contact with a rough piece of metal and is laid up.

CHESTER NOTES.

Miss Lou Spivey, of Fairview, is the guest of her brother, J. F. Spivey on First street.

Sheriff C. E. Allison came to Chester this morning and will attend the East End fair this afternoon.

Workmen are engaged today in digging the ditch for the big sewer at the end of the First street bridge.

William Hood and family, of Martin's Ferry, are the guests of his brother, Joseph Hood, near the park.

Miss Maude Stewart left this morning to visit her friends, Misses Jean and Edith Kerr, of Shousestown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rose, of Carolina avenue, left last evening for a visit with Mr. Rose's parents near Iron dale, O.

John D. Stewart and wife, of Grant district, went to Pittsburgh this morning to visit friends and attend the exposition.

The hunting season opened up in West Virginia yesterday and large numbers of hunters were scouring the hills in quest of game.

The new railroad siding at Faulk's new flouring mill is being finished today. They are now ready for the heavy machinery which will arrive in a few days.

There was quite a pleasant dance Tuesday evening at the home of John Lloyd, near Chester and quite a number from East Liverpool attended, among them being John Bailey and family and George Reid and family.

Morgan's Partners in Washington.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Mr. Robert Bacon and Mr. George W. Perkins, two of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan's partners, were in the city last night. It is presumed on business connected with the settlement of the coal strike. They did not register at any hotel and it was impossible to reach them with any inquiries as to the strike situation or their mission in Washington.

When the steel mill was burned the temporary works were burned, too. It was for the purpose of receiving information from the operators' side to the controversy, but up to 11 o'clock the best information obtainable was to the effect that neither of them had called, so that if any statements were made by them it must have been through Secretary Root or some other intermediary.

ACCUSED OF BLEVINS' MURDER.

A Contracting Painter Arrested on Confession of a Man In Kansas.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 16.—Charged with the murder of City Treasurer John Blevins in his office on the night of Jan. 7, 1890, Frank J. Field, a contracting painter, of Wicklow street, East End Pittsburgh, is a prisoner at City Hall. He was arrested at his home at 5:30 yesterday morning by Officer James McKissick, of New Castle, who brought him here on a Pennsylvania train, arriving at 10:30, city time. Field was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Charles McClaren, of this city.

Some months ago H. R. Peek, of Gorham, Kan., wrote to the mayor of New Castle that he had information that would clear up the mystery. Little attention was paid to the letter at the time. McClaren, however, had formerly lived in Kansas and knew Peek. After some correspondence he recently went there. He asserts that he has evidence that will convict the prisoner.

According to the story, the crime was committed by Frank J. Field and a brother, Judson Field, who died about a year ago, after writing a confession of the crime and signing it in the presence of witnesses. This confession is said to be highly sensational, inasmuch as it reveals a conspiracy and the complicity of others than the field brothers. More arrests, it is likely, will be made. It is said that the confession is accompanied by evidence in the shape of papers stolen from the city treasurer.

Field when arrested exhibited little agitation and accompanied the officer without resistance. He protested his innocence of the crime. Upon his arrival here he was taken to the office of Alderman Gilliland, where the information was read to him.

The information alleges murder as the result of a conspiracy between Judson and Frank J. Field and persons whose names are to the complainant unknown. "I am not guilty," said Field, who was trembling violently. "It is 20 years since I was in New Castle before. I passed through the city once since then with the Tenth regiment. Who do you say was murdered?" When the name of John Blevins was repeated he said that he had never heard it.

POINTED QUESTIONS ARE ASKED

By Republican State Chairman Dick, of Tom Johnson Famous Single Taxer and Tax Dodger.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special)—Chairman Dick, of the Republican state executive committee, has addressed the following open letter to Tom L. Johnson:

Sir—In a speech made by you in the national house of representatives on the 11th day of January, 1894, you stated that you were a steel mill manufacturer and that your mill made about one-third of all the steel rails produced in the United States. It further appeared that said business was being carried on in Johnstown, Pa., under the name of the Johnson company, and the business was so profitable and established on such a firm basis that you advocated removing all tariff from steel rails and putting them on the free list.

The laws of Ohio required you to make return of your interest in that company and to pay taxes on it to the state of Ohio. Why did you fail to do so? Was it a mere oversight, or did you set yourself above the laws of the state and refuse to do so? Will you please explain your attitude on this important question?

You are also charged with being interested at various times within the past few years in the following foreign corporations:

The Johnson Rolling Mill company. The Johnstown & Stony Creek Railway company. The Allentown & Lehigh Valley Railway company. The Detroit Citizens Railway company. The Buffalo Traction company.

Numerous traction interests in Brooklyn and New York and New Jersey, with the management of which you were identified.

Is this statement true? If true, when did you ever list for taxation in Ohio any of your holdings in any of these concerns? If not, why not?

Are you not, by your attorney's admission, a "tax dodger" for failing to list for taxation your $20,000 worth of acknowledged stock in the Johnstown Passenger Railway company? Have you not likewise dodged the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned in your steel rail mill at Johnstown, Pa.? Have you not, to the extent in which you have escaped and avoided the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned, increased the taxes of, and so defrauded, every other taxpayer, laborer, mechanic or merchant in Ohio? Are you in any better position than the railroads and other corporations you condemn for doing the same thing?

You are currently reported to be a very rich man, and it is even said that you have the good fortune to be a multi-millionaire. The expensive paraphernalia used by you in your present tour of the state, your well-known liberality and many and even magnificent charities, are evidence of considerable means. You are not known to be the owner of any real estate nor interested in any corporations organized and doing business solely in the state. You have disposed of at a very high figure, it is said, the steel mill at Lorain, O., in which you were largely interested. Your share of the proceeds of that transaction, whether represented by money (except greenbacks,) bonds or stocks of foreign corporations, should have been returned for taxation. Did you ever pay any taxes on a single dollar of it?

You said in your meeting at Lorain: "I am no longer interested in your steel plant. I came here once and joined you in making money for myself and you. I hope we both succeeded."

It is no secret that you were successful. Did you pay your just share of taxation on the success you achieved there?

At your meeting in Tiffin, Sept. 27, you said in response to a question: "I will tell you how I made my money. I made it through franchises. I never got a franchise of my own in my life. I went around buying them from the people and did not know what they were really worth. That is the way I got my money."

Did you ever pay any taxes in Ohio upon these properties organized under the laws of other states and located outside of this state, or upon the great "salable value" added to them by these franchises secured from the "suckers"? In every case that these were no Ohio corporations and their property not located in Ohio, the Ohio laws require all such stocks to be listed for taxation in Ohio by every Ohio holder. Did you ever thus list any of these stocks? Particularly since you have repeatedly ordered the county auditors to assess railroads in Ohio upon their "salable value" as shown by the market quotations of their stocks and bonds, did you ever yourself list any of your own outside stocks for taxation upon the basis of their "salable value" increased by the franchises, in the same way that you insist upon for other people? Why did you not do so? Did you consider the state of Ohio the biggest "sucker" of all?

Are you in a position to accuse others of evading just taxation? Are corporations that escape their fair share of taxation any more guilty than individuals that do the same?

Respectfully,
CHARLES DICK.

Mitchell Will Talk This Morning.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—When Mr. Mitchell learned the personnel of the commission early this morning and was asked for a further statement he replied that he would have nothing further to say until morning.

Previously, before he knew of the personnel of the commission, he said to reporters that the whole matter would be laid before the joint meeting of the three executive boards of the anthracite region, at their meeting at 10 o'clock this morning.

In reply to the question if he would comply with the president's request that coal mining be resumed immediately, he said he would make a more definite answer when he knew more about the matter.

Miners Must Vote Upon It.

After his interview with the reporters in the hotel lobby, Mr. Mitchell went to his office on the second floor, where he was closeted with Mr. Wilson. While there the reporter of the Associated Press again went to him for further enlightenment on the situation regarding immediate resumption.

umption, and he made the positive statement that a delegate convention must first pass upon the question of calling off the strike. This was also before he knew the personnel of the commission. From the time of the calling of the convention to its adjournment is only a matter of three or four days. There is hardly any doubt that a convention will stand by any agreement he has made to President Roosevelt.

MINERS' TRUSTEES CONVENED.

Called to Meet This Morning by President Mitchell, After White House Conference.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—The executive board members of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers of America will hold a joint meeting here at 10 o'clock this morning to consider a proposition for ending the strike which President Mitchell will lay before them with a view of calling a delegate convention of the striking mine workers to pass upon it. The call was sent out yesterday afternoon as a result of a telephone message sent by Mr. Mitchell after his conference with President Roosevelt at Washington. It was difficult last night to say what the outcome will be, but one thing seems to be sure, and that is that considerable progress is being made toward the end of the struggle.

Likely Got President's Interpretation.

No one here knew last night the exact nature of the proposition Mr. Mitchell brought back with him from the national capital, and it was probable no one would know it excepting the three district presidents and National Secretary-Treasurer Wilson until the strike leader laid it before the three boards. In his public statement of Tuesday night the strike leader said nothing would be done until he was in possession of the full meaning of the operators' proposed arbitration plan, and it is likely he received the president's interpretation yesterday. It was understood that at least a majority of the board members was opposed to the plan, but if the president gave Mr. Mitchell an interpretation of the proposal, there is a likelihood that a convention will be called to consider it. There is a general belief that a convention will be called, no matter what sort of a proposition is laid before the boards. Some of the miners are of the opinion that Mr. Mitchell may have offered a compromise proposition by which the operators and miners would have equal representation on an arbitration commission. A great majority of the rank and file are still opposed, like most of their board members, to accepting the operators' proposition, as they now understand it.

Composition of Conference Today.

The joint conference today will be made up of 37 persons. Those who will be present will be Mr. Mitchell, National Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, who arrived here yesterday; the three anthracite members of the national executive board, the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of each district, the seven board members from each of the upper and lower districts and the six board members of the middle district.

If a convention is held it will probably be called together within four days. While Hazleton is more centrally located, there is a probability that Wilkesbarre would be the convention city, because headquarters are here. About 800 delegates would be in attendance. Mr. Mitchell, following precedents, would be elected president, with Mr. Wilson, if he remains in the east, acting as secretary.

HERMIT'S LIFE LED BY RICH MAN

An Eccentric Recluse Died in Harrison County Worth $400,000.

BACHELOR AND LIVED ALONE

Avoided Company And Dressed Poorly. A Carpetless Hut And Primitive Furniture the Place That He Called His Home—A Strange Character.

Over in Harrison county there died a rich man, who had lived what was called by his close neighbors a hermit's life, and as the heirs are closing up the large estate, which will be disposed of to the relatives, the subject of getting so large an estate is full of interest, for the man made it himself by hard work, patient toil, self denial, and it might well be said miserly habits, says the New Philadelphia Democrat.

The estate left by Farrington Barwicklow consisted of about 4,000 acres of land in Harrison county. It has been left to nephews and it is estimated at about $400,000, a nice sum of money to be given to men whose only claim to it lies in the fact that they are blood relatives and the nearest of kin to the dead man who made and saved the money.

The mode of the dead man's living is said to take us back a century, to the time when the back woodsman struggled to get a home in the deep and wildest forest, gaining it by continuous use of the ax, and having nothing but the most ancient furniture.

The man has passed to his reward. He was probably laid away in a cheap coffin if his wishes were respected. That coffin was just as good in a sense as one costing many times as much—just as well too that it was so, for pride was no feature in the dead man's makeup. He had plenty to eat, but no one nowadays would call it a sumptuous repast, in fact many would criticize the scantily dressed table. He coveted himself none of the things which wealth generally brings. He did not travel. He lived in an unpretentious home or rather a hut. He wore no fine clothes, being content and happiest in blouse, overalls, slouch hat and well seasoned brogans. He was a bachelor and never knew the supreme joy of being husband and father. He, however, experienced the delight, peculiar to some men, of seeing his few dollars grow into a heroic pile. Accumulation of wealth was his chief desire, and in this he was successful beyond an ordinary degree. He was retired in disposition, doing no particular harm to any one, and died as he lived. Like the hermit of old dressed in scanty attire, living on rough food, he was timid and did not care for any company. He was apparently fearful that some one would attempt to steal his savings.

A fire place was his cook stove; a crane on which to hang his kettle hung over the embers of the logs and thus he boiled his meats. The furniture about the hut was of the oldest kind and his floors never felt the refining influence of a carpet. He was skeptical and never welcomed the way farer and as a rule never invited him into his place.

A brother and sister stayed with the old man and cared for him during the latter days of his life, but they too have gone to their graves since his departure.

The old gentleman was honest in his dealings, but he lived for himself alone and his physical condition plainly showed that he denied himself many necessities in order to gain financial standing. He was grimy in appearance and this condition is said to have been preferred, in order that strangers would not suspect him of having any wealth about him. He was uneducated, as we look at it today, but he was able to count correctly every cent of his accumulated wealth, his bonds, his stocks, his notes and his cash, and in their accumulation he took infinite delight. He passed lands not knowing that he owned them, but he knew his stocks, notes, bonds, etc., as well as the average woman knows her best piece of furniture.

Now that he is gone his life is a lesson to the living. Practically he left no impress except on the sordid business world. Alas, there are too many like him and the number is growing rapidly as we are going into the commercial age. It would be better, however, if we enjoyed ourselves to the fullest extent of our resources; that we would assist others in their struggle for happiness, than that the whole sum of our lives should be built on the sordid desire for gold and silver.

GOOD RACING AND GOOD CROWD

The Second Day of the Tri-State Fair a Success in Various Ways.

GREAT SPECIAL FEATURES

Were the Performances of the Guide-
less Horse And the Trained Dogs
—Interesting Track Events And the Horses Which Won Them.

Very much in contrast to the first day of the Tri-State fair being held at Columbian Park, yesterday was marked by clear and pleasant weather, a fast track and an enormous crowd.

There were lovers of racing present from the rural districts, Steubenville, Wheeling and Wellsburg and numerous other cities besides East Liverpool.
All expressed themselves as being highly pleased at the fair in every particular, and the interest was unabated during the entire program.

The displays of stock were viewed with more than the ordinary interest and the management is being complimented on every hand for its effort to make this department of the fair a success. The special attractions pulled off between heats in the afternoon could not be excelled. Cute, the guide-less wonder, with a record of 2:05 1/4, performed in a remarkable manner.
She paced a mile in 2:10, and anything to beat her exhibition has never been seen by local people. Without a sign or a motion the pretty animal cleared the mile without a break, coming in under the wire like a flash of lightning. She was certainly a favorite after the unusual performance.

Rex, a dog owned by Prof. Spoerhase, also performed a remarkable feat when he drove two horses, Hummingbird and Nan Wilkes, a mile in 2:42. The dog sat on the seat of the sulky as calm as an old driver and handled the reins in great style. Another attraction, in which Max drove Hummingbird and Rex held the lines on Nan Wilkes in a race, was a novel feature. Hummingbird won the race in 2:22. All of these attractions were presented this afternoon and gave repeated satisfaction.

When the first race was announced by Starter Gurney, one of the best in the country, nearly 2,000 people were standing on the hillside. They gave evidence of delight and a more orderly crowd could not be desired. Lieutenant Garcia, owned by Dr. Kinsey, of Wheeling, won the race without a struggle, coming under the wire first three consecutive times. Fairplay got second money in the race and did well, but was outclassed.

In the 2:24 trotting event which was for a purse of $500, Field Day Greeting won in a walk. It is said that this race equalled many of those seen on the grand circuit tracks.

The running race had five entries, but only four started. Bessie Browning, owned by A. E. Kramer, of Pittsburg, won the race, and only two heats were run, but it is thought by those who witnessed the race that if Uco had been let out that the result would have been different. The judges claim that they could not detect any holding back, but the crowd thought differ-ently.

The summary of the races follow:

2:40 class, pace; purse, $200; 3 best in 5.
Kawnee John, b. g., Johnathan Hay, Pittsburgh	2 6 3
Paddie Mack, b. g., P. McGar- ry, Steubenville	7 7 7

A NOTED GUEST

Local Heptasophs Entertained the Supreme Archon Tuesday Evening.

Ogden Conclave No. 227, Heptasoph, entertained a distinguished guest at their regular meeting in Fowler hall Tuesday night, in the person of Morris G. Cohen, supreme archon of the order in the United States. Mr. Cohen came down Tuesday afternoon from his home in Pittsburg, to be present at this meeting, and was met and entertained by several of the leading members of the local conclave.
He is a very pleasant gentleman, thoroughly posted on the history, work and mysteries of this well known fraternal order.

Preceding the principal address of the evening by Supreme Archon Cohen there were a number of short talks by members of the local conclave, which were both enjoyable and instructive. Mr. Cohen spoke for more than an hour, recounting the past work of the order and prospects for the future. It was a masterly address, pleasing to all present.

At the conclusion of the speaking a fine banquet was served by the Arcade caterers. Quite a number of visiting members were present from contiguous towns.

REPORTED A CUSHER

Oil Well on the Warren Farm at Knox ville Said to Be Good for 360 Barrels.

Oil well No. 1 on the Andrew Warren farm at Knoxville, was shot on Tuesday night and is reported to be flowing over 15 barrels an hour or at the rate of 360 barrels a day. The well is owned by the Consolidated Oil company, of Pittsburg, and was drilled in by C. M. Howard.

A few weeks ago the rig was burned down and the tools dropped into the hole. After considerable trouble and much expense the tools were recovered and the drilling was resumed.
On Tuesday night the well was shot and the stream of oil spouted high above the derrick. The gusher has occasioned no little excitement in the field.

Four new mammoth tanks are being built and arrangements are under way to take care of the oil. It is quite likely that another pumping station will be established there. Every piece of property in the vicinity has been leased excepting about 30 acres owned by John Cooper and most of the leases are said to be held by C. M. Crawford.

Girls Must Be Well Fed.

"Between the ages of twelve and sixteen girls develop with great rapidity, both mentally and physically. The body must be well supplied with the materials out of which to manufacture energy and the elements of repair—in other words, girls must be well fed."

ROBBING UNCLE SAM

A. Capel Said to Have Overdrawn
Amount of Foreign Money Orders at Salem Postoffice.

Salem, October 16.—Constable Cash
Johnson yesterday arrested A. Capel, a young man who resides near this city and works at the Buckeye, on a serious charge. The warrant for Cap-el's arrest was sworn out before Justice Lease by Hiram K. Green, deputy postmaster at Salem, and charges the prisoner with stealing $92.52, the property of the United States.

Capel, it is alleged, received some foreign money orders and in cashing them he was overpaid in the amount mentioned.

Equinoctial Period

The equinoctial period is always attended with storms and changeable weather, and consequently a time when colds are caused from wet feet and clothing often result. If the system is in a vigorous, healthy state it will be practically impervious to colds or other disorders, but the weakened, rundown, worn-out systems are always easy prey to disease. Fortify yourself and put your system in prime condition that will enable you to withstand the rigors of any kind of weather by a judicious use of Wirt's Cherry Tea, a pleasant effervescent tonic which renews the whole system from nerves to blood, cleansing, purifying and vitalizing. It creates a keen appetite, gives vim and vigor better than anything you ever tried. At all druggists, 50c and for a package.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Mason Comes Back—At the Ohio A. M. E. conference at Dayton, Rev. J. H. Mason, of this city, was returned to his present pastorate for another year.

New Choirmaster—St. Stephen's church on Fourth street has appointed a new choirmaster, to succeed Miss Florence Everson. Prof. Berg, of Wellsville, will hereafter have charge and will assume his new position in another week.

Wendling's Lecture—This evening at 8 o'clock the first of the fifth annual high school lectures will be delivered in the opera house. Hon. Geo. R. Wendling will be the speaker of the evening and will address his audience upon "The Imperial Book."

Road in Bad Shape—Several complaints were heard today about the condition of the East Liverpool and Wellsville county road near Wellsville. Several weeks ago a landslide almost obliterated a part of the road and it is almost impossible for vehicles to pass. So far no attempt has been made to repair the damage.

Here on a Visit—Mr. and Mrs. William Bolton, of Cleveland, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and are guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harker, in the East End. Mrs. Bolton has been ill for almost two years, and the best medical skill of Cleveland has been unable to improve her condition. She is now somewhat improved, but Mr. Bolton recently decided to take her to a Philadelphia physician. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton were former residents of this city.

SOCIAL EVENTS

MOUNTFORD-SIMPSON

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS PEALING IN THE EAST END.

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford Scene of Pretty Ceremony.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, of Ohio avenue, East End, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Florence to Ernest Simpson, of this city. Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the Presbyterian church officiated.

The bridal party descended the stairway to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. Swan. Miss Margaret Conover, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore white lawn and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. James Hall, of Trenton, N. J., a cousin of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She was beautifully attired in white china silk, trimmed with rich old lace. The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore tulle trimmed in point Venice lace and medallions. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Among the invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. Harker; Mrs. James Hall of Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Maguire, of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Catherine Simpson, Mrs. Pollie Simpson, Miss Maud Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Gass, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carson, Mrs. Conover, Miss Margaret Conover, Mr. and Mrs. S. Frost, Miss Annie Shingler, Miss Gertrude Salt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter, of Philadelphia; Mr. Fred Mountford, Mr. Elijah Mountford, Mr. Elias Ferguson, Mr. Elliott Frost, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Some of the presents included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, silver tea set; Mr. Elijah Mountford, rocking chair; Mrs. Simpson, knives and forks and handsome walnut bookcase; Mrs. R. Simpson, silver spoons and dessert spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Gass, large cut glass berry bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Carson, silver carving set; Mr. and Mrs. Frost, gold berry spoon; Mr. Elliott Frost, handsome cut glass bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Harker, silver sugar spoon; Miss Annie Shingler, cut glass and sugar tongs; Mr. Fred Mountford, gold clock; Miss Woodward, butter knife and sugar shell.

A cablegram was received extending the congratulations of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mountford and Mrs. Booth, of Hanley, England, uncle and aunt of the bride.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An Enjoyable Affair Given in Honor of Miss Mamie Harker Last Evening.

The party which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harker gave for their daughter, Mamie, upon the anniversary of her fourteenth birthday last evening, was an event which will long be remembered by the hostess and her many friends.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive peanuts, for which five tables were arranged. By reason of the dextrous playing, Miss Lucille Hoffman won the first prize, which was a handsome silver spoon, and Miss Edna Webber was awarded the "consolation," which was a tiny piece of statuary. At 9:30 an elaborate luncheon was served, after which the thirty or more girls and boys turned their steps homeward. Miss Mamie was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, which demonstrate the good will of her many young friends.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW

Ladies of Y. M. C. A. Arranging For An Elaborate Exhibition Soon.

A chrysanthemum show is soon to be held by the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. A meeting of the auxiliary has been called for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for the event. The date will be fixed and a committee will be selected to have charge.

The proceeds of the flower fair will go toward the debt fund which was contracted in the refurbishing of the building. The ladies are very enthusiastic and expect to have one of the most complete displays of chrysanthemums ever shown in this section.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Cora McBride entertained a number of her friends last evening at her home in the West End. Games and music were the features of the evening. A dainty luncheon was served and the young folks departed for their homes declaring Miss McBride a charming hostess.

Willing Workers' Meeting.

The Ladies' Sewing society, known as the Willing Workers of St. John's Evangelical church, held a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Shriber on Third street.

A Dinner This Evening.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark will this evening give a dinner to a few of their friends in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. Bert George and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

Go to the Tri-State Fair at Columbian Park Friday. Best racing of the week.

FOLLOWING UP CLUES TO MAIL SACK THEFT

Government Detectives Are Here and Local Officers Are Busy on the Sensational Case.

ENERGETIC HUNT FOR COLORED SUSPECT

The News Review's exclusive report of the daring theft of a mail bag containing thousands of dollars in checks and money orders caused a great sensation last evening. Everywhere remarks on the nerve displayed by the thieves could be heard. From present indications it will be some time before the mystery of the disappearance of the mail sack is solved, though the publication by the News Review is already bringing clues to light.

Two detectives of Washington, D. C., in the employment of the government are in the city. They have obtained clues which they think will result in the capture of the daring individuals. A careful investigation of the territory lying between this city and Smith's Ferry has been made and it has been found to be a fact that there were letters placed in the bag at Smith's Ferry and also that they were missed upon the same day that the non-arrival of bag was discovered.

The theory advanced that the theft was committed at the depot of this city has been abolished. Some were under the impression that the mail that is shipped to East Liverpool from Pittsburgh on "41" is not thrown off at the depot, but carried on to Wellsville and there brought back by the early morning train. Taking that view, it was surmised that possibly there was a new postal clerk on the route on the night of October 6, and he not being aware that the mail is transferred at Wellsville, threw it off here, giving a robber an excellent opportunity to carry it off without detection.

The mail carried on 41 is thrown off here and is placed in the hands of Night Watchman Maple. This fact dispels the idea that the bag was stolen while not under protection at the depot.

The coffee colored negro who applied to Cashier Harry T. Hall with one of the missing checks is thought to be but one of the gang who succeeded in capturing the bag. From meager clues picked up by the police at central station the officers strongly believe that he had several confederates and are positive that had he been successful in his attempt to cash the check at the Dollar Savings bank that the entire gang would have worked the city for all it was worth. The shrewd cashier foiling the man in his bold attempt probably saved many less experienced men from becoming victims.

Many commendatory phrases have been spoken of the News Review for its publication of the facts, resulting as they have, in placing the business men of the city on their guard. An experienced man could not be taken in on one of the checks, but there are many who fall easy prey to a sharper who understands the handling of a note, draft or check.

Through the publication it is also thought that the guilty parties will be apprehended. Every man, woman and child is now aware of the robbery and in consequence on the outlook for any suspicious actions on the part of a man answering the description of the colored man.

Although not working in conjunction with the imported detectives the local police force is on the alert and have run down several clues tipped off to them as the result of the story being made public.

Upon being informed of the colored man's description.

DESPERATE MEN For Whom West Virginia Officers Are Searching the Woods Near Chester.

On a quiet but determined hunt two detectives of Wheeling have been in the city and Chester since Tuesday evening, trying to locate four criminals who escaped from the Moundsville penitentiary last week.

The detectives have spent most of their time in Chester, as they firmly believe that the quartet is in hiding on that side of the river. They have scoured the hollow back of Rock Springs park, and although they have not as yet discovered any clues, they firmly believe that the men are located somewhere in the valley. A more ideal hiding place could not be found, and as many an escaped prisoner has been tracked in that direction it is quite likely that the detectives are on the right trail.

Chief Thompson stated last evening that he believes the valley has become notorious, and that its reputation will be the cause of many persons seeking it as a place of refuge. The detectives have not made themselves known to the police of the city, but the latter were given the tip last evening that the smooth sleuths are in the locality. They were in conversation with a well known Chester man yesterday who is acquainted with one of the escaped convicts, but it is said could gain no definite information as to the location of the hunted men.

The whereabouts of the men are being sought with diligence by the penitentiary authorities, and if the detectives succeed in landing them they will be the recipients of much praise.

The convicts are John Renforth, of Parkersburg, aged 18 years, who was sentenced on March 15 to serve five years for voluntary manslaughter; Calvin Grose, of Nicholas county, W. Va., aged 19 years, who was sentenced December 21, 1901, to serve five years for a postoffice robbery; William Palmer, of Columbus, Ky., who was sentenced in December, 1901, to serve 10 years for housebreaking. He is 33 years old; William Gardner, aged 29 years, who was sentenced to serve 10 years for robbery.

All of these men are desperate characters and no doubt will put up a strong battle when cornered.

TO PENITENTIARY AND REFORMATORY

Hutton and Cooley, Youthful Burglars of This City, Were Sentenced.

FIVE YEARS FOR FORMER

Story of Their Daring Escape as Revealed in Court—Other Matters of a Criminal Nature Receiving Judicial Attention.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special).—The jury returned a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon in the case of Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley, both of East Liverpool, charged with breaking into and attempting to rob the Fairbanks store in that city. Hutton was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and Cooley to the reformatory at Mansfield, where he will have to remain a year.

Hutton and Cooley, though the former is only 20 and the latter not that old, are said to be crooks, and have been in the toils before. The crime was committed on the night of July 18. Homer Fairbanks had reached his home at 9 o'clock that night, when he was informed that some one was breaking into his store. He entered the front door of his place of business and found the back door open. The burglars had been frightened away. With several others he was investigating to see what was missing when Hutton and Cooley entered and assisted in the search. Later when all but Fairbanks had left they again appeared, and pointed a revolver at him. He put them to flight with a hatchet. The defense tried to show that the boys were having sport with Fairbanks.

Cooley's mother was at the trial and was much affected by the verdict. Hutton has the appearance of a hardened criminal. He said he could not give reason why sentence should not be passed, but complained of his treatment in the jail.

Henry Mollen, of Wellsville, was brought into court this morning charged with breaking into Stephen Ridinger's stable in that town and stealing some merchandise. His attorney, Charles Boyd, of Wellsville, made a motion to quash the indictment which was overruled. The case will probably be heard today.

The case of Edward Allen, arrested at Salem early in September for pocket picking, will probably be heard this afternoon. Allen is charged with having taken a pocketbook containing money and papers from the pocket of W. D. Howell in a crowd at a race meet in Salem. He was bound over and has been in jail ever since. It is said that he is a professional thief.

$150 MORE GIVEN STRIKING MINERS

Trades Council Will Send No Delegate to the A. F. of L. Convention.

THE CLERKS' PETITION

Action of the Council Not Relished by the Grocer and Butcher Clerks. They Say Work is Becoming Scarce in Their Trade.

No better evidence could be given of the fact that East Liverpool's wage workers are prospering than was developed last night at the meeting of trades and labor council, when $150 was ordered drawn from the treasury to be forwarded at once to the treasurer of the United Mine Workers' union to support the anthracite miners in their strike.

The movement is not going to end there either, for, if the strike continues the local central labor union is prepared to donate more liberally as the necessity demands.

When the question of sending a delegate to the annual meeting of the A. F. of L. came up last night it was recalled by a number of the delegates that the expense of a trip to New Orleans would be very great and it was thought that the money would do more good in the hands of the strikers than by sending a delegate to the convention, and the $150 was drawn.

A communication from the United Garment Workers' union, of Peoria stated that there was trouble on with the J. Clapp & Son Co., and asked that the goods of the concern be let alone until it was adjusted. The communication was filed, and a committee composed of Charles Kontner, Al Boies and Wash Williams was appointed to ascertain if any of the unfair goods were being handled in this city.

A communication was also received from the trustees of the Industrial Home, located at Moline, Ill., which had been elected by organized labor stating that the home was in need of funds to wipe out a debt of $14,800. The local council donated $5 for the fund.

Retail grocer and butcher clerks' union No. 292 presented a lengthy communication with reference to the proposed move to license hucksters. The communication stated that on account of the increased number of hucksters and the growth of their business the employers of union clerks were suffering, and that several of the members of this union had been laid off owing to lack of business. They urged that council reconsider its determination to oppose the licensing of peddlers. A heated discussion resulted, during which strong language was used, but no action was taken save the receiving of the communication. Under reports of delegates those

Drunken Negroes Got Into a Battle Crossing the Bridge Causing a Panic Among the Passengers.

As the result of a terrible fight there was pandemonium on a South Side street car last evening at about 8 o'clock while the car was crossing the bridge enroute to this city. Two revolver shots were fired, many blows were passed and the lives of every passenger abroad were for a few minutes in extreme danger.

The principals in the melee were three negroes, Atley Feamister, of Charleroi, Pa.; Charles Lee, of Chester and "Slim" Storm, of this city. Over a warm dispute, started as soon as the men entered the car, the fight occurred. Feamister and Lee have been on the outs for several weeks and the mixup was the culmination of their trouble. The former gave vent to vile and insulting language and Lee, not being of the kind that will be imposed upon, especially when in the presence of a crowd, jumped from his seat in a state of rage and attempted to land a solar plexus on the form of his adversary.

Feamister was too quick for him, however, and before Lee had time to fully realize the desperate form of the affair he pulled a revolver and aiming directly at Lee's head fired twice in rapid succession. Neither of the bullets took effect but instead went crashing through the car window.

Women passengers screamed loudly and hysterically appealed to Conductor Hogue for protection. He was powerless to help them, as they soon perceived, and one of the ladies, frightened terribly, ran to the rear door and tumbled out into space. The others endeavored to do likewise, but could not make their way past the men engaged in the fight. In terror they sat down and their wailings were most pitiful.

Lee, the man used as a target, also made a dash for the door, but was intercepted and fearing that he would receive the remaining contents of the gun, he broke a window and without a moment's notice plunged out into darkness landing on the edge of the bridge and narrowly escaping a fall to the water thirty feet below.

In making his escape the fellow was so excited that he grabbed a hat from a lady sitting near the window. The hat was found this morning in the hallway of the First National bank building. It was wrapped securely and pinned to it was a note reading: "This hat will be called for in the morning." It was signed by Lizzie Openbottom.

Lee, recovering from his fall, started on a heroic run for the Chester side of the bridge, and it is said ran the length of First street and on back to the woods. Meantime, the car had been stopped and the motorman and conductor were trying in vain to abate the trouble.

Blows, it is said, were directed unintentionally at the passengers by the trio, but all claim that they were not touched. After the fleeing of Lee, the other men also made themselves scarce and started in the direction taken by the badly scared negro.

Before midnight Storm applied at central station and offered to give himself up, but there was no charge against him and he was allowed to depart. Officers Good and Maxwell searched the city during the most of the night, thinking that Lee and Feamister had returned to this side. No traces of them could be found, and it is supposed that they have left for unknown parts. Sheriff Allison, upon instigation of the Southside railway officials, came up this morning from New Cumberland and has taken the case in hand.

The proclamation enumerates the following offices to be filled: Secretary of state, member board of public works, dairy and food commissioner, judge of circuit court, member of congress, probate judge, clerk of courts, county recorder, county commissioner, county surveyor, infirmary director and coroner.

JULIA IN JAIL

Wellsville Woman Who Eluded the Sheriff Found And Arrested.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special).—Mrs. Julia Keenar, who was indicted by the grand jury for keeping a house of ill repute at Wellsville, at which liquor was sold, was brought here this morning by Chief of Police Henry Thorne, of Wellsville.

Julia could not be found when the sheriff was serving papers and was not apprehended until yesterday. Being unable to give bond she is now in jail.

BREWER'S TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

AN APPEAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS LOOKED FOR.

Not Likely That the Case Will Reach Trial at Present Term of Court.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special).—It is doubtful whether the case of Ohio against Colonel Albert Brewer, who is under indictment for murder in the second degree, will be tried at this term of court. The indictment was secured under the old jury law which was declared several weeks ago and will doubtless stand as a decision has been handed down by Judge Duncan, at Findlay, O., to the effect that an indictment returned under the old jury law is illegal, and in order to reach a conviction that will stand the tests of the higher court it will be necessary to secure another under the law recently enacted at this extraordinary session of the legislature.

Colonel Brewer was engaged in the pottery business at Tiffin, O., for a number of years, coming to Ohio from Trenton, where he was associated in business with his brother, the late John Hart Brewer, when he was a member of the firm of the Ott & Brewer Pottery company. Colonel Brewer was a member of Governor Asa S. Bushnell's private staff and served several terms as member of the state fish and game commission, retiring from that body last year.

One afternoon early in June Brewer and a dairymen named Luther Hershey became embroiled in a saloon brawl in Tiffin. Both were under the influence of liquor and during the melee there was a promiscuous interchange of glassware from the counter. Hershey was struck in the head by a bottle, the blow crushing his skull. He left the saloon, walked some distance and sank to the ground unconscious. He was taken home in a carriage where he died without returning to consciousness. Brewer was arrested and charged with his death. He was immediately released on $5,000 bond and his case continued until the October term of court. He spent the summer with his family at his beautiful home at Mackinac.

Should his attorneys carry the case up it is not thought that an indictment for a greater degree than manslaughter will be returned, as there has been a wonderful revolution in sentiment since the public has had time to take a sober thought of all the circumstances surrounding the case, and legal opinion is unanimous as to the futility of attempting to sustain a charge as serious as that for which Brewer is under indictment. He has retained the best legal talent obtainable.

COUNTER PROPOSITION

Prepared By the Business Men Will Be Submitted to Clerks for Action.

A well attended meeting of the Business Men's association was held last night, and as was anticipated by the News Review yesterday the sole topic of discussion was the closing regulations to govern the retail clerks. The business men are not disposed to accept the original agreement and so expressed themselves last night.

However, they prepared a counter proposition which varies but very little from the original, and which they think will be accepted by the clerks at a special meeting to be held by union No. 133 this evening.

DEPUTY SUPERVISORS

The Star Porcelain company, of Trenton, is defendant in a suit started by the General Electric company, of Schenectady. Papers alleging infringement of patents on machinery for making electric light sockets were filed in the United States circuit court and a rule to show cause why a perpetual injunction should not issued was allowed and made returnable November 3. Julius C. Fournier, of Schenectady, is said to have been the inventor of the patents.

POTTERY WORKERS WED.

The marriage of Miss Mary E. Turner and F. S. Coleman was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Pratt at the M. E. parsonage yesterday afternoon. The young people are living at 189 Fairview street. Mr. Coleman is a popular turner at Cartwright's pottery and Mrs. Coleman has been an employee in the decorating department of one of the potteries. They have a number of friends in church and society.

FRACTURED RIBS.

Dick Webber, of the new end glost kiln crew at the K. T. & K., was handling the ribbons behind Mactell, one of the starters Tuesday in the 2:40 trot, and just before the gong sounded for the first heat, he fell from the sulky and suffered the fracture of two ribs. The mishap did not affect his nerve, however, and he pluckily regained his seat and guided Mactell in all three heats of the race.

DISSATISFACTION IS NOW EXPRESSED

Many of the Legislators Do Not Like the Board Plan as Approved by Conferees.

WAS FINALLY EVOLVED

The Boards of Public Safety and Public Service Will Practically Control All City Affairs Not Under the Jurisdiction of Council.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 16.—There is considerable dissatisfaction expressed by both Republican and Democratic members over the code bill agreed upon by the legislative conference committee. Lieutenant Governor Gordon has pronounced it "an illogical and absurd proposition." While there is some basis for the criticism that is being indulged in it must be borne in mind that the committee was obliged to do something, and it determined upon the board plan as the simplest solution of the difficulty.

The conferees were deadlocked and the only proposition upon which there seemed to be any chance for agreement was the one providing for the board plan of government. Hasty action was necessary, and this is what was evolved: Board of public service, being of from one to five members, at the option of council, to be elected by the people, the number not being changed for five years after having been fixed; board of public safety, bi-partisan, to be either two or four members, appointed by the sinking commissioners, the latter body to be bi-partisan and to be appointed by the mayor. These two boards will practically control all departments and affairs of the city, aside from legislative matters which are placed in the hands of council, which body will have little else to look after.

The committee has been perfecting the details of government of the boards since yesterday, prescribing the functions of the departments, etc., and will it is expected place its report before both bodies Friday. It will probably be adopted, as the members are anxious to terminate without further delay what has been an uninteresting session. They want to return home and look after their private business.

The senate defeated the Barnham bill, which sought to repeal the Jones act light law passed last winter, doing away with arc lights at railway crossings. The vote was 16 to 9, being less than a constitutional majority. Senator Royer, of Seneca, offered a resolution to investigate alleged conspiracies and combinations of coal operators and railways. It went over under the rules. It provides for the appointment of an investigating commission; the fixing, either by a commission or by direct legislation, the maximum charge at which coal may be sold by operators; the enactment of a compulsory arbitration law to settle disputes between capital and labor; an extra session of the legislature to consider these matters, the time to convene being fixed at Monday, October 27, at 10 a. m.

The Senate adopted the Warner resolution providing for the participation of this state in the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the ship canal to Lake Superior. The governor and staff, lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and five members from the senate and five from the house are to attend, the expenses to be paid by the state. Mr. Dunham, of Toledo, introduced a bill in the house to correct a mistake in the law passed last winter permitting savings banks and loan companies to do a safe deposit and trust business.

Mr. Berghegger, of Hamilton, introduced a bill to give boards of education authority to issue bonds to the extent of two-tenths of 1 per cent of the total valuation of the property in the school district. This would do away with the necessity of asking the legislature to pass special bond bills. Mr. Price offered a bill giving manufacturing companies the right of eminent domain. The bill is drawn in the interest of the independent coal companies in the Hocking valley which have difficulty in securing outlets to railroads.

Sabbath union, which was followed by Dr. Alexander Jackson, secretary of the Cleveland Sabbath union.

Rev. P. A. Baker, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was present and spoke at some length on his work and its progress.

The report of the committee on aid for colleges and academies was received, and an interesting address was presented upon this theme by Rev. Dr. E. C. Ray, of Chicago. Evangelistic work was the subject that called forth an eloquent address by Rev. Dr. John MacIntosh, that was full of vigor and practical suggestions.

The routine business then came up and occupied the remaining time of the morning session.

At the public meeting last night Rev. J. Willis Barr delivered his famous address upon home missions.

The Synodical Woman's society elected the following officers: President, Mrs. N. T. Houston, of Urbana; secretary, Mrs. B. R. McClelland, Xenia; treasurer, Miss Alice Patterson Glendale. Young People's society: Secretary, Mrs. J. F. Clokey, Massillon; Freedmen's secretary, Mrs. McKinley, Steubenville. Literature: Mrs. W. H. Hower, Cleveland.

EAST END

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Victor W. Owens And Miss Mary Marsh United For Life Last Evening.

Victor W. Owens and Miss Mary Marsh were married at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marsh, on Maple avenue. Quite a number of friends and relatives were present.

Rev. George W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church, solemnized the ceremony. Misses Hazel and Agnes Marsh, sisters of the bride, were ribbon girls and Mrs. Mame Farrar played the wedding march.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white batiste and carried a bouquet of beautiful roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony she distributed the roses among the young ladies, and explained the significance of the gift, that the recipients of the favor would in a short time have husbands.

The house decorations were green and white and in the parlor was an arch of roses, with an inverted floral horse shoe, under which the young couple stood while the minister spoke the words that united them for life.

The groom is a well known and popular young potter and a son of Edward Owen. The bride is a winsome and accomplished young lady.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens went to Pittsburgh today to spend a few days.

JUST PLAIN BOOZE

And Not Poison Was All That Ailed John Williamson Yesterday.

John Williamson, of Erie street, East End, got on a drunk Tuesday night and yesterday morning did not make his appearance at the breakfast table at the usual hour. The Jackman family, with whom he boards, became alarmed and entered his room, where they found him apparently sleeping very soundly. All their efforts to arouse him proved futile and physicians were hastily summoned. Drs. Marshall and Calhoun responded and after an hour's hard work succeeded in restoring him to consciousness.

Williamson told the family that he had taken morphine with suicidal intent. Both the attending physicians are positive, however, that it was a plain case of too much booze.

Two Trials of Strength.

A striking machine man and a sandwich man at Columbian park were the principals in fist and skull fight at the park last night about 7 o'clock. The sandwich man had tried his strength on his opponent's machine and refused to pay. This the machine man resented and the sandwich man then tried his strength on him. There was a lively scrap for a few minutes and the sandwich man got the best of it. No complaints were made to the police.

Seemed Too Officious.

One of the special park policemen from Steubenville created a disturbance last night at the Pastime club dance in Larkins & Ferguson's hall by attempting to arrest Frank Fern. Fern's only offense seems to have been twirling a stick and he refused to submit to the special. His friends also interfered in his behalf and there would have been a lively time had the Steubenville man persisted in overstepping his authority.

Circle-Whealden.

Mr. Charles Whealden and Miss Laura Circle were married last night at 9 o'clock by Rev. N. M. Crowe at the Second Presbyterian parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Whealden are newcomers to the East End, but they have a host of friends who are extending congratulations. They will go to housekeeping on Pennsylvania avenue.

Want a Peace Bond.

James Fulton, who was assaulted by Saloonkeeper Hopkins Tuesday during the latter's drunken rampage on Mulberry street, told a News Review reporter today that he would have Hopkins placed under a peace bond if he could receive the necessary evidence. Some of the witnesses are reluctant to appear against Hopkins.

Dyspepsia AND Liver Disease CURED BY DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I was weak, nervous and dizzy, with a fainting sensation when walking," writes Jesse Childress, Esq., of Samuel, Sullivan Co., Tenn. "Could not walk any distance; always felt bad after eating; felt as though something was sticking in my throat, always uneasiness in stomach. Doctored with three physicians but they did not relieve me. I grew worse and used everything I could think of; was nearly ready to give up and then some one told me that Dr. Pierce's medicine was good, so I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken seven bottles of that now and am as stout as ever, and enjoying health as much as ever before. I worked all summer and this winter as much as any one. My case was liver disease and nervous dyspepsia of which your medicine has cured me. In September 1898 my weight was about 95 pounds, now it is 135. Please accept my sincere thanks."

Miss Odessa Owens, of Globe street returned home yesterday from Gallipoli, where she had been making an extended visit with friends.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's. Get Green's special almanac.

In three days I was again on my route and in two weeks I was free from pain and gaining in flesh and strength."

FOOTBALL SATURDAY

Steubenville Eleven And Walsh's Team Will Battle On West End Grounds.

Arrangements have been completed for a foot ball game to be played in West End park next Saturday afternoon by Manager Walsh's team and the crack team of Steubenville. The local team has been under hard practice for several weeks and will without doubt put up a strong game. There are about twenty men from whom the eleven will be chosen by Manager Walsh and he is not yet decided as to who the players will be.

Steubenville always has had a good team and it is said will bear the same reputation this winter.

Young Talbott was not dangerously hurt, although unconscious for some time.

Mines to Supply Toronto.

The Calumet Coal company has just been organized at Toronto by H. H. Smith and Samuel McAdoo and a number of other local capitalists and the deals are now being closed for nearly 200 acres of valuable coal lands adjoining that city on the west. The work of opening the mines will begin at once and they expect to have the coal on the market in two weeks to supply the town.

THE MARVELOUS CURES

Now Being Performed Free by the British Doctors

Keep Their Offices Crowded Almost Constantly.

Eminent specialists from the English Medical Institute, by request of numerous patients under their treatment in this country, have established a permanent branch of the institute in East Liverpool. In order to become rapidly acquainted with the sick and afflicted, these eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free (medicines excepted) for three months to all invalids who call upon them before Oct. 25th. These services include examination, advice and all minor surgical operations.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities and guarantee all curable cases undertaken. Weakness of either sex, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, heart, lung, stomach, kidney and bladder affections. All diseases of the skin, blood, brain and nervous system. Gout, cancer, without pain, epilepsy, rheumatism and rectal diseases. Impaired vitality, knotted veins and shrunk conditions are positively cured by their new treatment.

All things considered, the fair being held at Columbian park this week is a success. It demonstrates that the people of East Liverpool stand ready and willing to patronize an up-to-date racing and agricultural exhibition and leads to the hope that the efforts now being put forth to make such a show a regular thing each year will succeed. It is often remarked that there is no money in fairs, and that is generally true, when they are considered per se; but they help to bring business and to advertise the town and are capable of being made an agency that will benefit exhibitors and furnish healthy amusement of all patrons. The News Review would be glad to see the East Liverpool Agricultural society regularly organized and doing business. Its promoters can rest assured that they need only furnish a creditable exhibition to secure a large patronage for the annual fair, and their grounds can be made useful at other seasons in a great variety of other ways.

The specter of militarism is vanishing so fast that the ants no longer keep up their hollow pretense of fearing it. Orders are about to be issued by the war department that the regular army be reduced to the minimum size authorized by law, 59,600 men. With the cessation of outbreaks in the Philippines, it is believed that this can be done safely. The present size of the army is about 67,000 men. The cavalry and artillery regiments will be reduced to the minimum basis, except around Ft. Leavenworth, where the commands will be kept of full size for educational reasons. Less than one soldier to 1,000 population in the United States is not such an enormous standing army that we are in any immediate danger of military oppression.

Election day is near. It is time for systematic work toward getting out the Republican vote. That accomplished, nothing else is necessary. Columbiana county, being safely Republican at all seasons, is to receive little attention at the hands of the state campaigners, who believe, with good reason, that their best efforts can be more profitably put forth elsewhere. But this fact should not deter the local and county committees from hard and earnest work; rather, it should inspire them to undertake it. Wake the people up and get them to the polls. Columbiana county Republicans can and ought to make a grand showing this year.

Both President Roosevelt and Mitchell are to be congratulated on the plan they have hit upon for the settlement of the coal strike. It will win. Organized labor gets a representative on the board of arbitration. The end of the protracted warfare is in sight, and the whole country breathes easier. President Roosevelt deserves the thanks of the whole people for the skill, diplomacy and consummate ability with which he has managed the difficult task, which he voluntarily undertook.

Under Tom Johnson, the "Home Rule" mayor of Cleveland, nearly 2,500 men have been put in office without the advice, consent or votes of the people. Moreover, taxation has increased at a startling rate. Tom may think this a good showing, but the rest of Ohio is not likely to exhibit any remarkable eagerness to have this sort of rule extended.

Senator Hanna is back in campaign work again. His illness kept him idle but four days, and Democrats who were wishing and hoping for his retirement from the field are a disappointed lot. They might as well get used to disappointments, as there is a tremendous one in store for them on November 4.

Athletics are fast becoming part of the higher education for women. Wellesley has announced a field day for November 3, and Smith and Radcliffe have set their seal of approval upon sports, as Vassar has already done.

A Lisbon newspaper speaks of "every saloonist in East Liverpool being under indictment for illicit selling." Living so near the court house that editor ought to be able to get the news straight, but he does not seem to have the knack of doing so.

There is too much work connected with the old fashioned method of doing business, and train robbers have now taken to holding coal trains, certain of getting something valuable for their efforts.

The navy is useful even when Uncle Sam has no fighting to do. As long as the South American republics keep up their revolutionary habits American warships are not likely to lack for occupation.

Democratic politicians in Pennsylvania are predicting 125,000 majority for Pattison. Pennsylvania is sometimes uncertain politically, but never so uncertain as Democratic predictions.

Tillman says the way to stop the coal strike is to hang somebody. If the hanging could begin and end with the man giving such advice, there would be little protest raised.

The hunting season opened in Pennsylvania yesterday and the coroners swept out their offices and prepared for a busy season.

Baer will growl, but he must take his medicine.

AT THE THEATER

The mere announcement of the return next week of John A. Himmelein's big comedy company, "The Ideals," will be pleasant news to the thousands of friends that have been made by this organization in the past seasons. For ten years this company has been an annual visitor, and there is a grave question if any attraction that visits this city during the regular theatrical season is more popular, more prosperous, and more deservedly so. Each succeeding year finds the company larger and stronger, the list of plays better, the scenic equipment augmented, the band and orchestra, if anything, better than ever.

Augustus Thomas' new drama, "Arizona," which comes to the Grand opera house Friday night, October 17, is said to be the best play of recent production. It ran for 150 nights at the Herald Square theater with "Sag Harbor," and "Roger Brothers in Centors for popular favor. Mr. Thomas' play outran them except "Florodora" in point of time and drew crowded houses even with the awful opposition of Maude Adams and Sarah Bernhardt, in the two rival productions of "L'Aiglon."

Saturday's attraction at the Grand opera house, matinee and night, is "The Fatal Wedding," a new four act comedy drama from the pen of Theo. Kremer. The scenes are laid in New York, and treat of the machinations of an adventuress who separates a husband from his wife in order to win him for her own. The play is replete in scenes of pathos, comedy, sensational developments and climaxes.

Public Court Trial.

A Valuable Rooster Stolen, in which leading citizens will participate. On Monday evening, October 27th, in the opera house, the public will have an opportunity to witness one of the most truly enjoyable entertainments that has been given in this city for many a day.

"The Missouri Girl" was greeted by a big house at the Grand last night. It is a good play of its class and the company that presented it last night was a clever one and pleased the patrons.

Always in the Lead.

The Union Pacific was the first line to introduce Dining cars, Vestibuled cars, steam heat, Pintach light, Buffet smoking and Library cars, Tourist cars on Trans-Continental trains west of the Missouri river, and continues to lead. Is first in equipment; first in speed; first in important improvements; first in stupendous engineering enterprises; first in historic interest; first in scenic attractions.

It again leads by introducing an electric lighted train throughout. "The Overland Limited," with Observation cars, barber shops, bath, rooms and telephone service.

This famous train makes the run from Omaha to Salt Lake City 12 hours quicker, from San Francisco 16 hours quicker, and from Portland 16 hours quicker than any other train.

man's actions at the bank on Tuesday evening Officer Morris immediately started out in search and scoured every dive and section of the city where it was thought most likely the man could be found. At one time the officer came very close to laying hands on the man. Going to Robinson's saloon on Second street he was informed that a man tallying in every detail to the description given had just a few moments previous left the place. He had entered the saloon, looked nervously around and without saying a word retreated.

Where the man went the officer could not learn, but thinking that he had probably gone to the fair grounds in the East End where a number of colored men are harboring for the week he boarded a car for Columbian park and scrutinized closely every man of color on the grounds but to no avail.

Numerous inquiries were made at the local banks this morning for missing checks and all of those who have failed to receive checks supposed to have been mailed on or about the time of the robbery are satisfied that they were among those that did not reach the bankers.

Those who applied to the banks were instructed to write to the senders and request duplicates. This will be done, as there is no risk whatever to run, the bankers of the city being well able to give protection.

The check presented to Cashier Hall was first issued by A. A. Watson, of Rochester, he making it payable to the Olive Stove works, of that city. It was then deposited in the Rochester National bank and was later delivered to the Second National bank of Pittsburgh. This bank then mailed it to the Potters' bank of this city. The check was written for $110.49. Mr. Hall will return the check to the Second National bank at Pittsburgh and thereby save much red tape.

WELLSVILLE

WAR SECRETARY WRITES

To Congressman Taylor in Reference to Wellsville's Request About the Dam.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd yesterday received a letter from Hon. R. W. Taylor. The communication contained a copy of a letter sent to Mr. Taylor from the secretary of war, Hon. Elihu Root, which bears upon the topic of the location of dam No. 8. Mr. Taylor's letter follows:

"I beg to enclose herewith a copy of a letter received from the secretary of war respecting the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river which will explain itself. If I can be of further assistance in this regard do not hesitate to command me."

The letter from Hon. Elihu Root to Congressman Taylor is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.

"Hon. R. W. Taylor, M. C., Lisbon, O.

"Dear Sir—In answer to your letter of the 26th ultimo and the 7th inst., concerning the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river in the vicinity of Wellsville, O., I beg to inform you that the local engineer officer, Captain W. E. Craighill, to whom the matter was referred, reports under date of the 2d inst., as follows:

"The survey for the location of dam No. 8, Ohio river, was started as soon after the money became available as the men and outfit could be gotten together, and nothing further can reasonably be done to hasten it. The engineers for the city of Wellsville, O., are about to send me drawings showing the location of the proposed water works intake, and I have no doubt that I can tell them at once, from our examination of the drawings, whether or not their location will interfere with the construction of the lock and dam."

"Very respectfully,
"ELIHU ROOT,
"Secretary of War."

REUNION OF THIRD O. V. I.

Six Members Have Answered the Last Roll Call Last Year—Officers Chosen.

The twenty-seventh annual reunion of the Third Ohio volunteer infantry was held in Wellsville Tuesday. Seventeen members of the regiment were present and during the day talked over events of years ago when on the battle field. President George B. Aten entertained his old comrades at dinner, and also after the afternoon meeting entertained them at supper.

In the afternoon meeting a communication was read from Comrade Piper. In the communication he called attention to a report that the state of Kentucky had erected a monument to the confederate dead at Perryville, Ky., ignoring the union dead buried there.

The surviving members of this regiment think that Kentucky had more union soldiers in the battle of Perryville than the confederates. After several had expressed their opinion on the matter a motion was finally made and passed that the secretary be instructed to notify Mr. Piper to investigate and report at the next meeting. If the report proves true this regiment will ask the state of Ohio to erect a monument on the field to the Ohio union soldiers who were killed in this battle of Perryville.

A report was made by the secretary that during the past year six members of the regiment had died. They are: C. C. Aughinbaugh, of Company K; James Conkle, of Company H; Jonathan Ellis, of Company A; J. B. Moore, of Company B, and Mike Mann of Company I.

At the evening session of the reunion the following officers were elected to act during the ensuing year: Gilbert Snyder, Zanesville, president; Pierce Kirby, of East Liverpool, vice president; T. P. O'Shea, of Cleveland secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the next place of meeting should be either at Perryville, Ky., Stone River, Tenn., or Chattanooga, Tenn.

FIVE DELEGATES

To Attend River Convention Will Be Named By Council At Next Meeting.

Mayor W. J. Fogo, of this city, in receipt of the following communication from Edward McCready, secretary of the Business Men's League of Parkersburg, W. Va.

"The boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and similar organizations, which have already, or which may hereafter appoint delegates to the convention of the Ohio River Improvement Association which is to be held in this city, November 11 and 12, will please promptly notify the undersigned the number appointed and the number likely to attend, and oblige."

In reply Mayor Fogo wrote Mr. McCready and informed him that at least five delegates from this city would attend the convention. These five delegates, for there will be that exact number, will be appointed at the next regular meeting of council, which will be held on October 20.

Wedded This Morning.

Frank E. Fitzpatrick, the popular West End restaurant proprietor, was married this morning to Miss Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, of Thirteenth and Commerce streets. The ceremony was performed in the Immaculate Conception church, Father Daniel B. Crotty officiating. The happy couple left on the noon train east. They will go to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore for a one week's trip. They will be at home to their friends in the West End by November 1.

Duffy Campaigners Met.

A slimly attended meeting of union men was held last evening in the interests of Duffy's candidacy for congress. A few East Liverpool men were present. A special committee appointed at the meeting elected the following officers: Samuel Carnahan, president, William Aughinbaugh, secretary. There were about 25 union men present.

AMONG THE UNIONS.

Carpenters' union No. 405 will hold its regular meeting on tomorrow evening in Potters' hall.

The regular meeting of Painters' union No. 328, was held last evening in Potters' hall. Business of a regular order was carried out and no matters of any special import were brought up.

The girls' union, local No. 55, will hold the opening dance of the winter this evening in the third floor hall of the city building, which was used on Tuesday evening for the "On to Cairo" meeting. Elaborate arrangements have been made.

Trades council will meet this evening in regular session in Potters' hall. No business of particular importance is to be transacted, excepting that resolutions regarding the cleaning of the streets of the city will probably be passed.

POINTED QUESTIONS ARE ASKED

By Republican State Chairman Dick, of Tom Johnson Famous Single Taxer and Tax Dodger.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special)—Chairman Dick, of the Republican state executive committee, has addressed the following open letter to Tom L. Johnson:

Sir—In a speech made by you in the national house of representatives on the 11th day of January, 1894, you stated that you were a steel rail manufacturer and that your mill made about one-third of all the steel rails produced in the United States. It further appeared that said business was being carried on in Johnstown, Pa., under the name of the Johnson company, and the business was so profitable and established on such a firm basis that you advocated removing all tariff from steel rails and putting them on the free list.

The laws of Ohio required you to make return of your interest in that company and to pay taxes on it to the state of Ohio. Why did you fail to do so? Was it a mere oversight, or did you set yourself above the laws of the state and refuse to do so? Will you please explain your attitude on this important question?

You are also charged with being interested at various times within the past few years in the following foreign corporations:

The Johnson Rolling Mill company. The Johnstown & Stony Creek Railway company.

The Allentown & Lehigh Valley Railway company.

The Detroit & Citizens Railway company.

The Buffalo Traction company. Numerous traction interests in Brooklyn and New York and New Jersey, with the management of which you were identified.

Is this statement true? If true, when did you ever list for taxation in Ohio any of your holdings in any of these concerns? If not, why not?

Are you not, by your attorney's admission, a "tax dodger" for failing to list for taxation your $20,000 worth of acknowledged stock in the Johnstown Passenger Railway company? Have you not likewise dodged the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned in your steel rail mill at Johnstown, Pa.? Have you not, to the extent in which you have escaped and avoided the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned, increased the taxes of, and so defrauded, every other taxpayer, laborer, mechanic or merchant in Ohio? Are you in any better position than the railroads and other corporations you condemn for doing the same thing?

You are currently reported to be a very rich man, and it is even said that you have the good fortune to be a multi-millionaire. The expensive paraphernalia used by you in your present tour of the state, your well-known liberality and many and even magnificent charities, are evidence of considerable means. You are not known to be the owner of any real estate nor interested in any corporations organized and doing business solely in the state. You have disposed of at a very high figure, it is said, the steel mill at Lorain, O., in which you were largely interested. Your share of the proceeds of that transaction, whether represented by money (except greenbacks,) bonds or stocks of foreign corporations, should have been returned for taxation. Did you ever pay any taxes on a single dollar of it?

You said in your meeting at Lorain: "I am no longer interested in your steel plant. I came here once and joined you in making money for myself and you. I hope we both succeeded."

It is no secret that you were successful. Did you pay your just share of taxation on the success you achieved there?

At your meeting in Tiffin, Sept. 27, you said in response to a question: "I will tell you how I made my money. I made it through franchises. I never got a franchise of my own in my life. I went around buying them from the people and did not know what they were really worth. That is the way I got my money."

Did you ever pay any taxes in Ohio upon these properties organized under the laws of other states and located outside of this state, or upon the great "salable value" added to them by these franchises secured from the "suckers"? In every case that these were no Ohio corporations and their property not located in Ohio, the Ohio laws require all such stocks to be listed for taxation in Ohio by every Ohio holder. Did you ever list any of these stocks? Particularly since you have repeatedly ordered the county auditors to assess railroads in Ohio upon their "salable value" as shown by the market quotations of their stocks and bonds, did you ever yourself list any of your own outside stocks for taxation upon the basis of their "salable value" increased by the franchises, in the same way that you insist upon for other people? Why did you not do so? Did you consider the state of Ohio the biggest "sucker" of all?

Are you in a position to accuse others of evading just taxation? Are corporations that escape their fair share of taxation any more guilty than individuals that do the same?

Respectfully,
CHARLES DICK.

of such a commission the term sociological means a man who has thought and studied deeply on social questions and has practically applied his knowledge.

Mr. Thomas H. Watkins, Scranton, Pa., as a man practically acquainted with the mining and selling of coal. Bishop John L. Spaulding, of Peoria, Ill. The president has added Bishop Spaulding's name to the commission.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright has been appointed recorder of the commission.

Mitchell Will Talk This Morning. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—When Mr. Mitchell learned the personnel of the commission early this morning and was asked for a further statement he replied that he would have nothing further to say until morning.

Previously, before he knew of the personnel of the commission, he said to reporters that the whole matter would be laid before the joint meeting of the three executive boards of the anthracite region, at their meeting in 10 o'clock this morning.

In reply to the question if he would comply with the president's request that coal mining be resumed immediately, he said he would make a more definite answer when he knew more about the matter.

Miners Must Vote Upon It. After his interview with the reporters in the hotel lobby, Mr. Mitchell went to his office on the second floor, where he was closeted with Mr. Wilson. While the reporter of the Associated Press again went to him for further enlightenment on the situation regarding immediate resumption, and he made the positive statement that a delegate convention must first pass upon the question of calling off the strike. This was also before he knew the personnel of the commission. From the time of the calling of the convention to its adjournment is only a matter of three or four days. There is hardly any doubt that a convention will stand by any agreement he has made to President Roosevelt.

MINERS' TRUSTEES CONVENE. Called to Meet This Morning by President Mitchell, After White House Conference.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—The executive board members of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers of America will hold a joint meeting here at 10 o'clock this morning to consider a proposition for ending the strike which President Mitchell will lay before them with a view of calling a delegate convention of the striking mine workers to pass upon it. The call was sent out yesterday afternoon as a result of a telephonic message sent by Mr. Mitchell after his conference with President Roosevelt at Washington. It was difficult last night to say what the outcome will be, but one thing seems to be sure, and that is that considerable progress is being made toward the end of the struggle.

Likely Got President's Interpretation. No one here knew last night the exact nature of the proposition Mr. Mitchell brought back with him from the national capital, and it was probable no one would know it excepting the three district presidents and National Secretary-Treasurer Wilson until the strike leader laid it before the three boards. In his public statement of Tuesday night the strike leader said nothing would be done until he was in possession of the full meaning of the operators' proposed arbitration plan, and it is likely he received the president's interpretation yesterday. It was understood that at least a majority of the board members was opposed to the plan, but if the president gave Mr. Mitchell an interpretation of the proposal, there is a likelihood that a convention will be called to consider it. There is a general belief that a convention will be called, no matter what sort of a proposition is laid before the boards. Some of the miners are of the opinion that Mr. Mitchell may have offered a compromise proposition by which the operators and miners would have equal representation on an arbitration commission. A great majority of the rank and file are still opposed, like most of their board members, to accepting the operators' proposition, as they now understand it.

Composition of Conference Today. The joint conference today will be made up of 37 persons. Those who will be present will be Mr. Mitchell, National Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, who arrived here yesterday; the three anthracite members of the national executive board, the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of each district, the seven board members from each of the upper and lower districts and the six board members of the middle district.

If a convention is held it will probably be called together within four days. While Hazleton is more centrally located, there is a probability that Wilkesbarre would be the convention city, because headquarters are here. About 800 delegates would be in attendance. Mr. Mitchell, following precedents, would be elected president, with Mr. Wilson, if he remains in the east, acting as secretary.

CURES WEAK MEN FREE.

Insures Love and a Happy Home for All. How any man may quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, lost vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Knapp Medical Co., 739 Hull Building, Detroit, Mich., and they will gladly send free receipt with full directions so that any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer, and the following extracts taken from their daily mail show what men think of their generosity.

"Dear Sirs: Please accept my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sirs—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sirs—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed, and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and they want every man to have it.

Over in Harrison county there died a rich man, who had lived what was called by his close neighbors a hermit's life, and as the heirs are closing up the large estate, which will be disposed of to the relatives, the subject of getting so large an estate is full of interest, for the man made it himself by hard work, patient toil, self denial, and it might well be said miserly habits, says the New Philadelphia Democrat.

The estate left by Farrington Barwicklow consisted of about 4,000 acres of land in Harrison county. It has been left to nephews and it is estimated at about $400,000, a nice sum of money to be given to men whose only claim to it lies in the fact that they are blood relatives and the nearest of kin to the dead man who made and saved the money.

The mode of the dead man's living is said to take us back a century, to the time when the back woodsman struggled to get a home in the deep and wildest forest, gaining it by continuous use of the ax, and having nothing but the most ancient furniture.

The man has passed to his reward. He was probably laid away in a cheap coffin if his wishes were respected. That coffin was just as good in a sense as one costing many times as much—just as well too that it was so, for pride was no feature in the dead man's makeup. He had plenty to eat, but no one nowadays would call it a sumptuous repast, in fact many would criticize the scantily dressed table. He coveted himself none of the things which wealth generally brings. He did no traveling. He lived in an unpretentious home or rather a hut. He wore no fine clothes, being content and happiest in blouse, overalls, slouch hat and well seasoned brogans. He was a bachelor and never knew the supreme joy of being husband and father. He, however, experienced the delight, peculiar to some men, of seeing his few dollars grow into a heroic pile. Accumulation of wealth was his chief desire, and in this he was successful beyond an ordinary degree. He was retired in disposition, doing no particular harm to any one, and died as he lived. Like the hermit of old dressed in scanty attire, living on rough food, he was timid and did not care for any company. He was apparently fearful that some one would attempt to steal his savings.

A fire place was his cook stove; a crane on which to hang his kettle hung over the embers of the logs and thus he boiled his meats. The furniture about the hut was of the oldest kind and his floors never felt the re-fitting influence of a carpet. He was skeptical and never welcomed the way farer and as a rule never invited him into his place.

A brother and sister stayed with the old man and cared for him during the latter days of his life, but they too have gone to their graves since his departure.

The old gentleman was honest in his dealings, but he lived for himself alone and his physical condition plainly showed that he denied himself many necessities in order to gain financial standing. He was grimy in appearance and this condition is said to have been preferred, in order that strangers would not suspect him of having any wealth about him. He was uneducated, as we look at it today, but he was able to count correctly every cent of his accumulated wealth, his bonds, his stocks, his notes and his cash, and in their accumulation he took infinite delight. He passed lands not knowing that he owned them, but he knew his stocks, notes, bonds, etc., as well as the average woman knows her best piece of furniture.

Now that he is gone his life is a lesson to the living. Practically he left no impress except on the sordid business world. Alas, there are too many like him and the number is growing rapidly as we are going into the commercial age. It would be better, however, if we enjoyed ourselves to the fullest extent of our resources; that we would assist others in their struggle for happiness, than that the whole sum of our lives should be built on the sordid desire for gold and silver.

HERMIT'S LIFE LED BY RICH MAN

An Eccentric Recluse Died in Harrison County Worth $400,000.

ROBBING UNCLE SAM

A. Capel Said to Have Overdrawn Amount of Foreign Money Orders at Salem Postoffice.

Salem, October 16.—Constable Cash Johnson yesterday arrested A. Capel, a young man who resides near this city and works at the Buckeye, on a serious charge. The warrant for Capel's arrest was sworn out before Justice Lease by Hiram K. Green, deputy postmaster at Salem, and charges the prisoner with stealing $92.52, the property of the United States.

Capel, it is alleged, received some foreign money orders and in cashing them he was overpaid in the amount mentioned.

Equinoctial Period

The equinoctial period is always attended with storms and changeable weather, and consequently a time when colds caused from wet feet and clothing often result. If the system is in a vigorous, healthy state it will be practically impervious to colds or other disorders, but the weakened, run-down, worn-out systems are always easy prey to disease. Fortify yourself and put your system into prime condition that will enable you to withstand the rigors of any kind of weather by a judicious use of Wirt's Coler's Tea, a pleasant, effective tonic which rejuvenates the whole system from nerves to blood, cleansing, purifying and vitalizing. It creates a keen appetite, gives vim and vigor better than anything you ever tried. At all druggists, 25c and 50c a package.

GOOD RACING AND GOOD CROWD

The Second Day of the Tri-State Fair a Success in Various Ways.

GREAT SPECIAL FEATURES

Were the Performances of the Guideless Horse And the Trained Dogs—Interesting Track Events And the Horses Which Won Them.

Very much in contrast to the first day of the Tri-State fair being held at Columbian Park, yesterday was marked by clear and pleasant weather, a fast track and an enormous crowd.

There were lovers of racing present from the rural districts, Steubenville, Wheeling and Wellsburg and numerous other cities besides East Liverpool. All expressed themselves as being highly pleased at the fair in every particular, and the interest was unabated during the entire program.

The displays of stock were viewed with more than the ordinary interest and the management is being complimented on every hand for its effort to make this department of the fair a success. The special attractions pulled off between heats in the afternoon could not be excelled. Cute, the guideless wonder, with a record of 2:05 1/4, performed in a remarkable manner. She paced a mile in 2:10, and anything to beat her exhibition has never been seen by local people. Without a sign or a motion the pretty animal cleared the mile without a break, coming in under the wire like a flash of lightning. She was certainly a favorite after the unusual performance.

Rex, a dog owned by Prof. Spoerhase, also performed a remarkable feat when he drove two horses, Hummingbird and Nan Wilkes, a mile in 2:42. The dog sat on the seat of the sulky as calm as an old driver and handled the reins in great style. Another attraction, in which Max drove Hummingbird and Rex held the lines on Nan Wilkes in a race, was a novel feature. Hummingbird won the race in 2:22. All of these attractions were presented this afternoon and gave repeated satisfaction.

When the first race was announced by Starter Gurney, one of the best in the country, nearly 2,000 people were standing on the hillside. They gave evidence of delight and a more orderly crowd could not be desired. Lieutenant Garcia, owned by Dr. Kinsey, of Wheeling, won the race without a struggle, coming under the wire first three consecutive times. Fairplay got second money in the race and did well, but was outclassed.

In the 2:24 trotting event which was for a purse of $500, Field Day Greeting won in a walk. It is said that this race equalled many of those seen on the grand circuit tracks.

The running race had five entries, but only four started. Bessie Browning, owned by A. E. Kramer, of Pittsburgh, won the race, and only two heats were run, but it is thought by those who witnessed the race that if Uco had been let out that the result would have been different. The judges claim that they could not detect any holding back, but the crowd thought differently.

The summary of the races follow:
2:40 class, pace; purse, $200; 3 best in 5.
Kawnee John, b. g., Johnathan Hay, Pittsburgh 2 6 3
Paddie Mack, b. g., P. McGarry, Steubenville 7 7 7

A NOTED GUEST

Local Heptasophs Entertained the Supreme Archon Tuesday Evening.

Ogden Conclave No. 227, Heptasophs, entertained a distinguished guest at their regular meeting in Fowler hall Tuesday night, in the person of Morris G. Cohen, supreme archon of the order in the United States. Mr. Cohen came down Tuesday afternoon from his home in Pittsburgh to be present at this meeting, and was met and entertained by several of the leading members of the local conclave. He is a very pleasant gentleman, thoroughly posted on the history, work and mysteries of this well known fraternal order.

Preceding the principal address of the evening by Supreme Archon Cohen there were a number of short talks by members of the local conclave, which were both enjoyable and instructive. Mr. Cohen spoke for more than an hour, recounting the past work of the order and prospects for the future. It was a masterly address, pleasing to all present.

At the conclusion of the speaking a fine banquet was served by the Arcade caterers. Quite a number of visiting members were present from contiguous towns.

REPORTED A CUSHER

Oil Well on the Warren Farm at Knoxville Said to Be Good for 360 Barrels.

Oil well No. 1 on the Andrew Warren farm at Knoxville, was shot on Tuesday night and is reported to be flowing over 15 barrels an hour or at the rate of 360 barrels a day. The well is owned by the Consolidated Oil company, of Pittsburgh, and was drilled in by C. M. Howard.

A few weeks ago the rig was burned down and the tools dropped into the hole. After considerable trouble and much expense the tools were recovered and the drilling was resumed. On Tuesday night the well was shot and the stream of oil spouted high above the derrick. The gusher has occasioned no little excitement in the field.

Four new mammoth tanks are being built and arrangements are under way to take care of the oil. It is quite likely that another pumping station will be established there. Every piece of property in the vicinity has been leased excepting about 30 acres owned by John Cooper and most of the leases are said to be held by C. M. Crawford.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Mason Comes Back—At the Ohio A. M. E. conference at Dayton, Rev. J. H. Mason, of this city, was returned to his present pastorate for another year.

New Choirmaster—St. Stephen's church on Fourth street has appointed a new choirmaster, to succeed Miss Florence Everson. Prof. Berg, of Wellsville, will hereafter have charge and will assume his new position in another week.

Wendling's Lecture—This evening at 8 o'clock the first of the fifth annual high school lectures will be delivered in the opera house. Hon. Geo. R. Wendling will be the speaker of the evening and will address his audience upon "The Imperial Book."

Road in Bad Shape—Several complaints were heard today about the condition of the East Liverpool and Wellsville county road near Wellsville. Several weeks ago a landslide almost obliterated a part of the road and it is almost impossible for vehicles to pass. So far no attempt has been made to repair the damage.

Here on a Visit—Mr. and Mrs. William Bolton, of Cleveland, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and are guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harker, in the East End. Mrs. Bolton has been ill for almost two years, and the best medical skill of Cleveland has been unable to improve her condition. She is now somewhat improved, but Mr. Bolton recently decided to take her to a Philadelphia physician. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton were former residents of this city.

MOUNTFORD-SIMPSON

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS PEALING IN THE EAST END.

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford Scene of Pretty Ceremony.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, of Ohio avenue, East End, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Florence to Ernest Simpson, of this city. Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the Presbyterian church officiated.

The bridal party descended the stairway to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. Swan. Miss Margaret Conover, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore white lawn and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. James Hall, of Trenton, N. J., a cousin of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She was beautifully attired in white china silk, trimmed with rich old lace. The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore taffeta trimmed in point Venice lace and medallions. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Among the invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. Harker; Mrs. James Hall, of Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Maguire, of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Catherine Simpson, Mrs. Pollio Simpson, Miss Maud Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Gass, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carson, Mrs. Conover, Miss Margaret Conover, Mr. and Mrs. S. Frost, Miss Annie Shingler, Miss Gertrude Salt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter, of Philadelphia; Mr. Fred Mountford, Mr. Elijah Mountford, Mr. Elias Ferguson, Mr. Elliott Frost, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Some of the presents included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, silver tea set; Mr. Elijah Mountford, rocking chair; Mrs. Simpson, knives and forks and handsome walnut bookcase; Mrs. R. Simpson, silver spoons and dessert spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Gass, large cut glass berry bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Carson, silver carving set; Mr. and Mrs. Frost, gold berry spoon; Mr. Elliott Frost, handsome cut glass bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Harker, silver sugar spoon; Miss Annie Shingler, cut glass and sugar tongs; Mr. Fred Mountford, gold clock; Miss Woodward, butter knife and sugar shell.

A cablegram was received extending the congratulations of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mountford and Mrs. Booth, of Hanley, England, uncle and aunt of the bride.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An Enjoyable Affair Given in Honor of Miss Mamie Harker Last Evening.

The party which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harker gave for their daughter, Mamie, upon the anniversary of her fourteenth birthday last evening, was an event which will long be remembered by the hostess and her many friends.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive peanuts, for which five tables were arranged. By reason of the dextrous playing, Miss Lucile Hoffman won the first prize, which was a handsome silver spoon, and Miss Edna Webber was awarded the "Consolation" which was a tiny piece of statuary. At 9:20 an elaborate luncheon was served, after which the thirty or more girls and boys turned their steps homeward.

Miss Mamie was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, which demonstrate the good-will of her many young friends.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW

Ladies of Y. M. C. A. Arranging For An Elaborate Exhibition Soon.

A chrysanthemum show is soon to be held by the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. A meeting of the auxiliary has been called for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for the event. The date will be fixed and a committee will be selected to have charge.

The proceeds of the flower fair will go toward the debt fund which was contracted in the refurnishing of the building. The ladies are very enthusiastic and expect to have one of the most complete displays of chrysanthemums ever shown in this section.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Cora McBride entertained a number of her friends last evening at her home in the West End. Games and music were the features of the evening. A dainty luncheon was served and the young folks departed for their homes declaring Miss McBride a charming hostess.

Willing Workers' Meeting.

The Ladies' Sewing society, known as the Willing Workers of St. John's Evangelical church, held a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Shriber on Third street.

A Dinner This Evening.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark will this evening give a dinner to a few of their friends in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. Bert George and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

Go to the Tri-State Fair at Columbian Park Friday. Best racing of the week.

FOLLOWING UP CLUES TO MAIL SACK THEFT

Government Detectives Are Here and Local Officers Are Busy on the Sensational Case.

ENERGETIC HUNT FOR COLORED SUSPECT

The News Review's exclusive report of the daring theft of a mail bag containing thousands of dollars in checks and money orders caused a great sensation last evening. Everywhere remarks on the nerve displayed by the thieves could be heard. From present indications it will be some time before the mystery of the disappearance of the mail sack is solved, though the publication by the News Review is already bringing clues to light.

Two detectives of Washington, D. C., in the employment of the government are in the city. They have obtained clues which they think will result in the capture of the daring individuals. A careful investigation of the territory lying between this city and Smith's Ferry has been made and it has been found to be a fact that there were letters placed in the bag at Smith's Ferry and also that they were missed upon the same day that the non-arrival of bag was discovered.

The theory advanced that the theft was committed at the depot of this city has been abolished. Some were under the impression that the mail that is shipped to East Liverpool from Pittsburgh on "41" is not thrown off at the depot, but carried on to Wellsville and there brought back by the early morning train. Taking that view, it was surmised that possibly there was a new postal clerk on the route on the night of October 6, and he not being aware that the mail is transferred at Wellsville, threw it off here, giving a robber an excellent opportunity to carry it off without detection.

The mail carried on 41 is thrown off here and is placed in the hands of Night Watchman Maple. This fact dispels the idea that the bag was stolen while not under protection at the depot.

The coffee colored negro who applied to Cashier Harry T. Hall with one of the missing checks is thought to be but one of the gang who succeeded in capturing the bag. From meager clues picked up by the police at central station the officers strongly believe that he had several confederates and are positive that had he been successful in his attempt to cash the check at the Dollar Savings bank that the entire gang would have worked the city for all it was worth. The shrewd cashier foiling the man in his bold attempt probably saved many less experienced men from becoming victims.

Many commendatory phrases have been spoken of the News Review for its publication of the facts, resulting as they have, in placing the business men of the city on their guard. An experienced man could not be taken in on one of the checks, but there are many who fall easy prey to a sharper who understands the handling of a note, draft or check.

Through the publication it is also thought that the guilty parties will be apprehended. Every man, woman and child is now aware of the robbery and in consequence on the outlook for any suspicious actions on the part of a man answering the description of the colored man.

Although not working in conjunction with the imported detectives the local police force is on the alert and have run down several clues tipped off to them as the result of the story being made public.

Upon being informed of the colored

BREWER'S TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

AN APPEAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS LOOKED FOR.

Not Likely That the Case Will Reach Trial at Present Term of Court.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special.)—It is doubtful whether the case of Ohio against Colonel Albert Brewer, who is under indictment for murder in the second degree, will be tried at this term of court. The indictment was secured under the old jury law which was declared several weeks ago and will doubtless stand as a decision has been handed down by Judge Duncan, at Findlay, O., to the effect that an indictment returned under the old jury law is illegal, and in order to reach a conviction that will stand the tests of the higher court it will be necessary to secure another under the law recently enacted at this extraordinary session of the legislature.

Colonel Brewer was engaged in the pottery business at Tiffin, O., for a number of years, coming to Ohio from Trenton, where he was associated in business with his brother, the late John Hart Brewer, when he was a member of the firm of the Ott & Brewer Pottery company. Colonel Brewer was a member of Governor Asa S. Bushnell's private staff and served several terms as member of the state fish and game commission, retiring from that body last year.

One afternoon early in June Brewer and a dairyman named Luther Hershey became embroiled in a saloon brawl in Tiffin. Both were under the influence of liquor and during the melee there was a promiscuous interchange of glassware from the counter. Hershey was struck in the head by a bottle, the blow crushing his skull. He left the saloon, walked some distance and sank to the ground unconscious. He was taken home in a carriage where he died without returning to consciousness. Brewer was arrested and charged with his death. He was immediately released on $5,000 bond and his case continued until the October term of court. He spent the

For Whom West Virginia Officers Are Searching the Woods Near Chester.

On a quiet but determined hunt two detectives of Wheeling have been in the city and Chester since Tuesday evening, trying to locate four criminals who escaped from the Moundsville penitentiary last week.

The detectives have spent most of their time in Chester, as they firmly believe that the quartet is in hiding on that side of the river. They have scoured the hollow back of Rock Springs park, and although they have not as yet discovered any clues, they firmly believe that the men are located somewhere in the valley. A more ideal hiding place could not be found, and as many an escaped prisoner has been tracked in that direction it is quite likely that the detectives are on the right trail.

Chief Thompson stated last evening that he believes the valley has become notorious, and that its reputation will be the cause of many persons seeking it as a place of refuge. The detectives have not made themselves known to the police of the city, but the latter were given the tip last evening that the smooth sleuths are in the locality. They were in conversation with a well known Chester man yesterday who is acquainted with one of the escaped convicts, but it is said could gain no definite information as to the location of the hunted men.

The whereabouts of the men are being sought with diligence by the penitentiary authorities, and if the detectives succeed in landing them they will be the recipients of much praise.

The convicts are John Renforth, of Parkersburg, aged 18 years, who was sentenced on March 15 to serve five years for voluntary manslaughter; Calvin Grose, of Nicholas county, W. Va., aged 19 years, who was sentenced December 21, 1901, to serve five years for a postoffice robbery; William Palmer, of Columbus, Ky., who was sentenced in December, 1901, to serve 10 years for housebreaking. He is 33 years old; William Gardner, aged 29 years, who was sentenced to serve 10 years for robbery.

All of these men are desperate characters and no doubt will put up a strong battle when corralled.

TO PENITENTIARY AND REFORMATORY

Hutton and Cooley, Youthful Burglars of This City, Were Sentenced.

FIVE YEARS FOR FORMER

Story of Their Daring Escape as Revealed in Court—Other Matters of a Criminal Nature Receiving Judicial Attention.

Lisbon, October 16.—(Special.)—The jury returned a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon in the case of Charles Hutton and Robert Cooley both of East Liverpool, charged with breaking into and attempting to rob the Fairbanks store in that city. Hutton was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and Cooley to the reformatory at Mansfield, where he will have to remain a year.

Hutton and Cooley, though the former is only 20 and the latter not that old, are said to be crooks, and have been in the toils before. The crime was committed on the night of July 18. Homer Fairbanks had reached his home at 9 o'clock that night, when he was informed that some one was breaking into his store. He entered the front door of his place of business and found the back door open. The burglars had been frightened away. With several others he was investigating to see what was missing when Hutton and Cooley entered and assisted in the search. Later when all but Fairbanks had left they again appeared, and pointed a revolver at him. He put them to flight with a hatchet. The defense tried to show that the boys were having sport with Fairbanks.

Cooley's mother was at the trial and was much affected by the verdict. Hutton has the appearance of a hardened criminal. He said he could not give reason why sentence should not be passed, but complained of his treatment in the jail.

Henry Mellen, of Wellsville, was brought into court this morning charged with breaking into Stephen Ridinger's stable in that town and stealing some merchandise. His attorney Charles Boyd, of Wellsville, made a motion to quash the indictment which was overruled. The case will probably be heard today.

The case of Edward Allen, arrested at Salem early in September for pocket picking, will probably be heard this afternoon. Allen is charged with having taken a pocketbook containing money and papers from the pocket of W. D. Howell in a crowd at a race meet in Salem. He was bound over and has been in jail ever since. It is said that he is a professional thief.

The man who reads the News Review reads the best East Liverpool newspaper.

PISTOL SHOTS FIRED AND TERROR REIGNED ON A SOUTHSIDE CAR

Drunken Negroes Got Into a Battle Crossing the Bridge Causing a Panic Among the Passengers.

As the result of a terrible fight there was pandemonium on a South Side street car last evening at about 8 o'clock while the car was crossing the bridge enroute to this city. Two revolver shots were fired, many blows were passed and the lives of every passenger abroad were for a few minutes in extreme danger.

The principals in the melee were three negroes, Atley Feamister, of Charleroi, Pa.; Charles Lee, of Chester and "Slim" Storm, of this city. Over a warm dispute, started as soon as the men entered the car, the fight occurred. Feamister and Lee have been on the outs for several weeks and the mixup was the culmination of their trouble. The former gave vent to vile and insulting language and Lee, not being of the kind that will be imposed upon, especially when in the presence of a crowd, jumped from his seat in a state of rage and attempted to land a solar plexus on the form of his adversary.

Feamister was too quick for him, however, and before Lee had time to fully realize the desperate form of the affair he pulled a revolver and aiming directly at Lee's head fired twice in rapid succession. Neither of the bullets took effect but instead went crashing through the car window.

Women passengers screamed loudly and hysterically appealed to Conductor Hogue for protection. He was powerless to help them, as they soon perceived, and one of the ladies, frightened terribly, ran to the rear door and tumbled out into space. The others endeavored to do likewise, but could not make their way past the men engaged in the fight. In terror they sat down and their wailings were most pitiful.

Lee, the man used as a target, also from the tailors' union reported that one of its members, who is employed at the Karnott shop, had refused to attach the label of the union to garments made by him. The employer was in different about the matter, and a committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the tailors in an effort to show the member and his employer that it would be worth their while to have the label appear upon every garment turned out. The committee is composed of Vice President Henry Moore, William Conklin and A. E. Bertele.

The president announced that owing to a vacancy upon the organization committee it had been deemed advisable to reorganize the body. Charles Kontner, who was recently commissioned as an organizer for the A. F. of L., was added to the committee. This will render it impossible for a repetition of the very annoying occurrence of a few weeks ago, when the fight of the committee to form a new organization was questioned.

The bakers again brought up the question of union label bread. It was stated that another non-union concern had become established in the city and the delegates were instructed to call the attention of their locals to the fact and ask them to buy only label bread.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the report of President McConnell, who represented the council at the meeting of the Ohio Federation of Labor, was laid over. It will be a special order of business next time.

After considerable difficulty, in which the constitutionality of the move was questioned, T. J. Duffy was endorsed for a political office, that of congressman in the Eighteenth district.

PODCELAIN COMPANY SUE.

The Star Porcelain company, of Trenton, is defendant in a suit started by the General Electric company, of Schenectady. Papers alleging infringement of patents on machinery for making electric light sockets were filed in the United States circuit court and a rule to show cause why a perpetual injunction should not issued was allowed and made returnable November 3. Julius C. Fournier, of Schenectady, is said to have been the inventor of the patents.

POTTERY WORKERS WED.

The marriage of Miss Mary E. Turner and F. S. Coleman was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Pratt at the M. E. parsonage yesterday afternoon. The young people are living at 180 Fairview street. Mr. Coleman is a popular turner at Cartwright's pottery and Mrs. Coleman has been an employee in the decorating department of one of the potteries. They have a number of friends in church and society.

FRACTURED RIBS.

Dick Webber, of the new end glost kiln crew at the K. T. & K., was handling the ribbons behind Macell, one of the starters Tuesday in the 2:40 trot, and just before the gong sounded for the first heat, he fell from the sulky and suffered the fracture of two ribs. The mishap did not affect his nerve, however, and he pluckily regained his seat and guided Macell in all three heats of the race.

DISSATISFACTION IS NOW EXPRESSED

Many of the Legislators Do Not Like the Board Plan as Approved by Conferees.

WAS FINALLY EVOLVED

The Boards of Public Safety And Public Service Will Practically Control All City Affairs Not Under the Jurisdiction of Council.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 16.—There is considerable dissatisfaction expressed by both Republican and Democratic members over the code bill agreed upon by the legislative conference committee. Lieutenant Governor Gordon has pronounced it "an illogical and absurd proposition." While there is some basis for the criticism that is being indulged in it must be borne in mind that the committee was obliged to do something, and it determined upon the board plan as the simplest solution of the difficulty.

The conferees were deadlocked and the only proposition upon which there seemed to be any chance for agreement was the one providing for the board plan of government. Hasty action was necessary, and this is what was evolved: Board of public service, being of from one to five members, at the option of council, to be elected by the people, the number not being changed for five years after having been fixed; board of public safety, bi-partisan, to be either two or four members, appointed by the sinking commissioners, the latter body to be bi-partisan and to be appointed by the mayor. These two boards will practically control all departments and affairs of the city, aside from legislative matters which are placed in the hands of council, which body will have little else to look after.

The committee has been perfecting the details of government of the boards since yesterday, prescribing, one functions of the departments, etc., and will it is expected place its report before both bodies Friday. It will probably be adopted, as the members are anxious to terminate without further delay what has been an uninteresting session. They want to return home and look after their private business.

The senate defeated the Barnham bill, which sought to repeal the Jones are light law passed last winter, doing away with arc lights at railway crossings. The vote was 16 to 9, being less than a constitutional majority. Senator Royer, of Seneca, offered a resolution to investigate alleged conspiracies and combinations of coal operators and railroads. It went over under the rules. It provides for the appointment of an investigating commission; the fixing, either by a commission or by direct legislation, the maximum charge at which coal may be sold by operators; the enactment of a compulsory arbitration law to settle disputes between capital and labor; an extra session of the legislature to consider these matters, the time to convene being fixed at Monday, October 27, at 10 a. m.

The Senate adopted the Warner resolution providing for the participation of this state in the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the ship canal to Lake Superior. The governor and staff, lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and five members from the senate and five from the house are to attend, the expenses to be paid by the state. Mr. Dunham, of Toledo, introduced a bill in the house to correct a mistake in the law passed last winter permitting savings banks and loan companies to do a safe deposit and trust business.

Mr. Berghegger, of Hamilton, introduced a bill to give boards of education authority to issue bonds to the extent of two-tenths of 1 per cent of the total valuation of the property in the school district. This would do away with the necessity of asking the legislature to pass special bond bills. Mr. Price offered a bill giving manufacturing companies the right of eminent domain. The bill is drawn in the interest of the independent coal companies in the Hocking valley which have difficulty in securing outlets to railroads.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Victor W. Owens And Miss Mary Marsh United For Life Last Evening.

Victor W. Owens and Miss Mary Marsh were married at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marsh, on Maple avenue. Quite a number of friends and relatives were present.

Rev. George W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church, solemnized the ceremony. Misses Hazel and Agnes Marsh, sisters of the bride, were ribbon girls and Mrs. Mame Farrar played the wedding march.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white batiste and carried a bouquet of beautiful roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony she distributed the roses among the young ladies, and explained the significance of the gift, that the recipients of the favor would in a short time have husbands.

The house decorations were green and white and in the parlor was an arch of roses, with an inverted floral horse shoe, under which the young couple stood while the minister spoke the words that united them for life.

The groom is a well known and popular young potter and a son of Edward Owen. The bride is a winsome and accomplished young lady.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens went to Pittsburgh today to spend a few days.

JUST PLAIN BOOZE

And Not Poison Was All That Ailed John Williamson Yesterday.

John Williamson, of Erie street, East End, got on a drunk Tuesday night and yesterday morning did not make his appearance at the breakfast table at the usual hour. The Jackman family, with whom he boards, became alarmed and entered his room, where they found him apparently sleeping very soundly. All their efforts to arouse him proved futile and physicians were hastily summoned. Drs. Marshall and Calhoun responded and after an hour's hard work succeeded in restoring him to consciousness.

Williamson told the family that he had taken morphine with suicidal intent. Both the attending physicians are positive, however, that it was a plain case of too much booze.

Two Trials of Strength.

A striking machine man and a sandwich man at Columbian park were the principals in fist and skull fight at the park last night about 7 o'clock. The sandwich man had tried his strength on his opponent's machine and refused to pay. This the machine man resented and the sandwich man then tried his strength on him. There was a lively scrap for a few minutes and the sandwich man got the best of it. No complaints were made to the police.

Seemed Too Officious.

One of the special park policemen from Steubenville created a disturbance last night at the Pastime club dance in Larkins & Ferguson's hall by attempting to arrest Frank Fern. Fern's only offense seems to have been twirling a stick and he refused to submit to the special. His friends also interfered in his behalf and there would have been a lively time had the Steubenville man persisted in overstepping his authority.

Circle-Whealden.

Mr. Charles Whealden and Miss Laura Circle were married last night at 9 o'clock by Rev. N. M. Crowe at the Second Presbyterian parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Whealden are newcomers to the East End, but they have a host of friends who are extending congratulations. They will go to housekeeping on Pennsylvania avenue.

Want a Peace Bond.

James Fulton, who was assaulted by Saloonkeeper Hopkins Tuesday during the latter's drunken rampage on Mulberry street, told a News Review reporter today that he would have Hopkins placed under a peace bond if he could receive the necessary evidence. Some of the witnesses are reluctant to appear against Hopkins.

Dyspepsia AND Liver Disease CURED BY DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I was weak, nervous and dizzy, with a fainting sensation when walking," writes Jesse Childress, Esq., of Samuel, Sullivan Co., Tenn. "Could not walk any distance; always felt bad after eating; felt as though something was sticking in my throat, all ways uneasiness in stomach. Doctored with three physicians but they did not relieve me. I grew worse and used everything I could think of; was nearly ready to give up and then some one told me that Dr. Pierce's medicine was good, so I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken seven bottles of that now and am as stout as ever, and enjoying health as much as ever before. I worked all summer and this winter as much as any one. My case was liver disease and nervous dyspepsia of which your medicine has cured me. In September 1898 my weight was about 95 pounds, now it is 135. Please accept my sincere thanks."

Another Scarlet Fever Case.

The residence of Samuel Herron on Altura street, in Helena, was quarantined this morning. Mr. Herron's step-daughter, 8 years of age, has the scarlet fever in a mild form.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Irene, the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Willis Chamberlain, is very seriously ill.

R. C. Howard, of the East End Hardware company, is laid up with a carbuncle on his ankle.

W. A. Thoms, of Inverness, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Ida M. Clark last night and left today for Pittsburgh.

Miss Odessa Owens, of Globe street returned home yesterday from Gallipoli, where she had been making an extended visit with friends.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often valued in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's. Get Green's special almanac.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY

Steubenville Eleven And Walsh's Team Will Battle On West End Grounds.

Arrangements have been completed for a foot ball game to be played in West End park next Saturday afternoon by Manager Walsh's team and the crack team of Steubenville. The local team has been under hard practice for several weeks and will without doubt put up a strong game. There are about twenty men from whom the eleven will be chosen by Manager Walsh and he is not yet decided as to who the players will be.

Steubenville always has had a good team and it is said will bear the same reputation this winter.

Young Boy Rendered Unconscious By Act of a Careless Driver.

A small son of David Talbott, residing on May street, was run down by a horse on Eighth street last night and seriously injured. The boy was playing with some companions in the street and was struck by a horse being driven very hard. The driver appeared to be intoxicated and the police are endeavoring to locate him.

Young Talbott was not dangerously hurt, although unconscious for some time.

Mines to Supply Toronto.

The Calumet Coal company has just been organized at Toronto by H. H. Smith and Samuel McAdoo and a number of other local capitalists and the deals are now being closed for nearly 200 acres of valuable coal lands adjoining that city on the west. The work of opening the mines will begin at once and they expect to have the coal on the market in two weeks to supply the town.

THE MARVELOUS CURES

Now Being Performed Free by the British Doctors

Eminent specialists from the English Medical Institute, by request of numerous patients under their treatment in this country, have established a permanent branch of the Institute in East Liverpool. In order to become rapidly acquainted with the sick and afflicted, these eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free (medicines excepted) for three months to all invalids who call upon them before Oct. 25th. These services include examination, advice and all minor surgical operations.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities and guarantee all curable cases undertaken. Weakness of either sex, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, heart, lung, stomach, kidney and bladder affections. All diseases of the skin, blood, brain and nervous system. Gout, cancer, without pain, epilepsy, rheumatism and rectal diseases. Impaired vitality, knotted veins and shrunken conditions are positively cured by their new treatment.

All things considered, the fair being held at Columbian park this week is a success. It demonstrates that the people of East Liverpool stand ready and willing to patronize an up-to-date racing and agricultural exhibition and leads to the hope that the efforts now being put forth to make such a show a regular thing each year will succeed. It is often remarked that there is no money in fairs, and that is generally true, when they are considered per se; but they help to bring business and to advertise the town and are capable of being made an agency that will benefit exhibitors and furnish healthy amusement of all patrons. The News Review would be glad to see the East Liverpool Agricultural society regularly organized and doing business. Its promoters can rest assured that they need only furnish a creditable exhibition to secure a large patronage for the annual fair, and their grounds can be made useful at other seasons in a great variety of other ways.

The specter of militarism is vanishing so fast that the ants no longer keep up their hollow pretense of fearing it. Orders are about to be issued by the war department that the regular army be reduced to the minimum size authorized by law, 59,600 men. With the cessation of outbreaks in the Philippines, it is believed that this can be done safely. The present size of the army is about 67,000 men. The cavalry and artillery regiments will be reduced to the minimum basis, except around Ft. Leavenworth, where the commands will be kept of full size for educational reasons. Less than one soldier to 1,000 population in the United States is not such an enormous standing army that we are in any immediate danger of military oppression.

Election day is near. It is time for systematic work toward getting out the Republican vote. That accomplished, nothing else is necessary. Columbiana county, being safely Republican at all seasons, is to receive little attention at the hands of the state campaigners, who believe, with good reason, that their best efforts can be more profitably put forth elsewhere. But this fact should not deter the local and county committees from hard and earnest work; rather, it should inspire them to undertake it. Wake the people up and get them to the polls. Columbiana county Republicans can and ought to make a grand showing this year.

Both President Roosevelt and Mitchell are to be congratulated on the plan they have hit upon for the settlement of the coal strike. It will win. Organized labor gets a representative on the board of arbitration. The end of the protracted warfare is in sight, and the whole country breathes easier. President Roosevelt deserves the thanks of the whole people for the skill, diplomacy and consummate ability with which he has managed the difficult task, which he voluntarily undertook.

Under Tom Johnson, the "Home Rule" mayor of Cleveland, nearly 2,500 men have been put in office without the advice, consent or votes of the people. Moreover, taxation has increased at a startling rate. Tom may think this a good showing, but the rest of Ohio is not likely to exhibit any remarkable eagerness to have this sort of rule extended.

Senator Hanna is back in campaign work again. His illness kept him idle but four days, and Democrats who were wishing and hoping for his retirement from the field are a disappointed lot. They might as well get used to disappointments, as there is a tremendous one in store for them on November 4.

Athletics are fast becoming part of the higher education for women. Wellesley has announced a field day for November 3, and Smith and Radcliffe have set their seal of approval upon sports, as Vassar has already done.

A Lisbon newspaper speaks of "every saloonist in East Liverpool being under indictment for illicit selling." Living so near the court house that editor ought to be able to get the news straight, but he does not seem to have the knack of doing so.

There is too much work connected with the old fashioned method of doing business, and train robbers have now taken to holding coal trains, certain of getting something valuable for their efforts.

The navy is useful even when Uncle Sam has no fighting to do. As long as the South American republics keep up their revolutionary habits American warships are not likely to lack for occupation.

Democratic politicians in Pennsylvania are predicting 125,000 majority for Pattison. Pennsylvania is sometimes uncertain politically, but never so uncertain as Democratic predictions.

Tillman says the way to stop the coal strike is to hang somebody. If the hanging could begin and end with the man giving such advice, there would be little protest raised.

The hunting season opened in Pennsylvania yesterday and the coroners swept out their offices and prepared for a busy season.

Baer will growl, but he must take his medicine.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

F. E. Oyster and sister Ida went to Pittsburg this morning on business.

Miss Ruby Smurthwaite is ill at her home on St. George street, in the East End.

George Thomas has returned from New York where he spent a few days on business.

James Cutler, of Lisbon, was the guest yesterday of William Arb, of 427 Lisbon street.

Miss Gertrude Baker, librarian of the Carnegie Public Library spent the day in Pittsburg yesterday.

Mrs. John Short, who was visiting Steubenville friends last week, returned home Saturday quite sick.

Supt. J. E. Henderson, of the New Cumberland schools, was visiting the East Liverpool schools yesterday.

Mrs. Lydia Maxwell, of Huntington, and sister Mrs. McKay, of Salem, are visiting Mr. Claude Nease and sisters, of Thompson avenue.

AT THE THEATER

The mere announcement of the return next week of John A. Himmelein's big comedy company, "The Ideals," will be pleasant news to the thousands of friends that have been made by this organization in the past seasons. For ten years this company has been an annual visitor, and there is a grave question if any attraction that visits this city during the regular theatrical season is more popular, more prosperous, and more deservedly so. Each succeeding year finds the company larger and stronger, the list of plays better, the scenic equipment augmented, the band and orchestra, if anything, better than ever.

Augustus Thomas' new drama, "Arizona," which comes to the Grand opera house Friday night, October 17, is said to be the best play of recent production. It ran for 150 nights at the Herald Square theater with "Sag Harbor," and "Roger Brothers in Centors" for popular favor. Mr. Thomas' play outran them except "Florodora" in point of time and drew crowded houses even with the awful opposition of Maude Adams and Sarah Bernhardt, in the two rival productions of "L'Aiglon."

Saturday's attraction at the Grand opera house, matinee and night, is "The Fatal Wedding," a new four act comedy drama from the pen of Theo. Kremer. The scenes are laid in New York, and treat of the machinations of an adventuress who separates a husband from his wife in order to win him for her own. The play is replete in scenes of pathos, comedy, sensational developments and climaxes.

Public Court Trial.

A Valuable Rooster Stolen, in which leading citizens will participate. On Monday evening, October 27th, in the opera house, the public will have an opportunity to witness one of the most truly enjoyable entertainments that has been given in this city for many a day.

"The Missouri Girl" was greeted by a big house at the Grand last night. It is a good play of its class and the company that presented it last night was a clever one and pleased the patrons.

man's actions at the bank on Tuesday evening Officer Morris immediately started out in search and scoured every dive and section of the city where it was thought most likely the man could be found. At one time the officer came very close to laying hands on the man. Going to Robinson's saloon on Second street he was informed that a man tallying in every detail to the description given had just a few moments previous left the place. He had entered the saloon, looked nervously around and without saying a word retreated.

Where the man went the officer could not learn, but thinking that he had probably gone to the fair grounds in the East End where a number of colored men are harboring for the week he boarded a car for Columbian park and scrutinized closely every man of color on the grounds but to no avail.

Numerous inquiries were made at the local banks this morning for missing checks and all of those who have failed to receive checks supposed to have been mailed on or about the time of the robbery are satisfied that they were among those that did not reach the bankers.

Those who applied to the banks were instructed to write to the senders and request duplicates. This will be done, as there is no risk whatever to run, the bankers of the city being well able to give protection.

The check presented to Cashier Hall was first issued by A. A. Watson, of Rochester, he making it payable to the Olive Stove works, of that city. It was then deposited in the Rochester National bank and was later delivered to the Second National bank of Pittsburgh. This bank then mailed it to the Potters' bank of this city. The check was written for $110.49. Mr. Hall will return the check to the Second National bank at Pittsburgh and thereby save much red tape.

WELLSVILLE WAR SECRETARY WRITES

To Congressman Taylor in Reference to Wellsville's Request About the Dam.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd yesterday received a letter from Hon. R. W. Taylor. The communication contained a copy of a letter sent to Mr. Taylor from the secretary of war, Hon. Elihu Root, which bears upon the topic of the location of dam No. 8. Mr. Taylor's letter follows:

"I beg to enclose herewith a copy of a letter received from the secretary of war respecting the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river which will explain itself. If I can be of further assistance in this regard do not hesitate to command me."

The letter from Hon. Elihu Root to Congressman Taylor is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.

"Hon. R. W. Taylor, M. C., Lisbon, O.

"Dear Sir—In answer to your letter of the 26th ultimo and the 7th inst., concerning the location of dam No. 8 on the Ohio river in the vicinity of Wellsville, O., I beg to inform you that the local engineer officer, Captain W. E. Craighill, to whom the matter was referred, reports under date of the 2d inst., as follows:

"The survey for the location of dam No. 8, Ohio river, was started as soon after the money became available as the men and outfit could be gotten together, and nothing further can reasonably be done to hasten it. The engineers for the city of Wellsville, O., are about to send me drawings showing the location of the proposed water works intake, and I have no doubt that I can tell them at once, from our examination of the drawings, whether or not their location will interfere with the construction of the lock and dam."

"Very respectfully,

"ELIHU ROOT,

"Secretary of War."

REUNION OF THIRD O. V. I.

Six Members Have Answered the Last Roll Call Last Year—Officers Chosen.

The twenty-seventh annual reunion of the Third Ohio volunteer infantry was held in Wellsville Tuesday. Seventeen members of the regiment were present and during the day talked over events of years ago when on the battle field. President George B. Aten entertained his old comrades at dinner, and also after the afternoon meeting entertained them at supper.

In the afternoon meeting a communication was read from Comrade Piper. In the communication he called attention to a report that the state of Kentucky had erected a monument to the confederate dead at Perryville, Ky., ignoring the union dead buried there.

The surviving members of this regiment think that Kentucky had more union soldiers in the battle of Perryville than the confederates. After several had expressed their opinion on the matter a motion was finally made and passed that the secretary be instructed to notify Mr. Piper to investigate and report at the next meeting. If the report proves true this regiment will ask the state of Ohio to erect a monument on the field to the Ohio union soldiers who were killed in this battle of Perryville.

A report was made by the secretary that during the past year six members of the regiment had died. They are: C. C. Aughinbaugh, of Company K; James Conkle, of Company H; Jonathan Ellis, of Company A; J. B. Moore, of Company B, and Mike Mann of Company I.

At the evening session of the reunion the following officers were elected to act during the ensuing year: Gilbert Snyder, Zanesville, president; Pierce Kirby, of East Liverpool, vice president; T. P. O'Shea, of Cleveland secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the next place of meeting should be either at Perryville, Ky., Stone River, Tenn., or Chattanooga, Tenn.

FIVE DELEGATES

To Attend River Convention Will Be Named By Council At Next Meeting.

Mayor W. L. Fogo of this city is in receipt of the following communication from Edward McCready, secretary of the Business Men's League, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

"The boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and similar organizations, which have already, or which may hereafter appoint delegates to the convention of the Ohio River Improvement Association which is to be held in this city, November 11 and 12, will please promptly notify the undersigned the number appointed and the number likely to attend, and oblige."

In reply Mayor Fogo wrote Mr. McCready and informed him that at least five delegates from this city would attend the convention. These five delegates, for there will be that exact number, will be appointed at the next regular meeting of council, which will be held on October 29.

Wedded This Morning.

Frank E. Fitzpatrick, the popular West End restaurant proprietor, was married this morning to Miss Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, of Thirteenth and Commerce streets. The ceremony was performed in the Immaculate Conception church, Father Daniel B. Crotty officiating. The happy couple left on the noon train east. They will go to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore for a one week's trip. They will be at home to their friends in the West End by November 1.

Duffy Campaigners Met.

A slimly attended meeting of union men was held last evening in the interests of Duffy's candidacy for congress. A few East Liverpool men were present. A special committee appointed at the meeting elected the following officers: Samuel Carnahan, president, William Aughinbaugh, secretary. There were about 25 union men present.

AMONG THE UNIONS.

Carpenters' union No. 405 will hold its regular meeting on tomorrow evening in Potters' hall.

The regular meeting of Painters' union No. 328, was held last evening in Potters' hall. Business of a regular order was carried out and no matters of any special import were brought up.

The girls' union, local No. 55, will hold the opening dance of the winter this evening in the third floor hall of the city building, which was used on Tuesday evening for the "On to Cairo" meeting. Elaborate arrangements have been made.

Trades council will meet this evening in regular session in Potters' hall. No business of particular importance is to be transacted, excepting that resolutions regarding the cleaning of the streets of the city will probably be passed.

SUITS IN ATTACHMENT

Brought in 'Squire Johnston's Court in Chester on Two Small Claims.

A case in attachment was brought yesterday against James L. Lowe in Justice Johnston's court on a claim of $25 for board by Mrs. Minerva Russell. The case is set for trial November 3. Lowe is a tin mill worker from Parkersburg who has been in pretty hard luck.

Another suit in attachment was brought by Samuel Bloom against G. V. Clendenning, the claim amounting to $16.75 for merchandise. This case will also be heard November 3.

Awaiting Casing.

The well drilling by Leasure on the John Snowden farm is at rest awaiting the casing. Ed Stewart, a driller on the well, went to Pittsburg last evening to look after it.

Laid Up for a Few Days.

John Beck, a tin mill employee, while working on the night turn, had his left leg badly cut by coming in contact with a rough piece of metal and is laid up.

CHESTER NOTES.

Miss Lou Spivey, of Fairview, is the guest of her brother, J. F. Spivey, on First street.

Sheriff C. F. Allison came to Chester this morning and will attend the East End fair this afternoon.

Workmen are engaged today in digging the ditch for the big sewer at the end of the First street bridge.

William Hood and family, of Martin's Ferry, are the guests of his brother, Joseph Hood, near the park.

Miss Maude Stewart left this morning to visit her friends, Misses Jean and Edith Kerr, of Shousetown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rose, of Carolina avenue, left last evening for a visit with Mr. Rose's parents near Iron dale, O.

John D. Stewart and wife, of Grant district, went to Pittsburg this morning to visit friends and attend the exposition.

The hunting season opened up in West Virginia yesterday and large numbers of hunters were scouring the hills in quest of game.

The new railroad siding at Faulk's new flouring mill is being finished today. They are now ready for the heavy machinery which will arrive in a few days.

There was quite a pleasant dance Tuesday evening at the home of John Lloyd, near Chester and quite a number from East Liverpool attended, among them being John Dailey and family and George Reid and family.

Farewell Audience, Preceding Departure For the Philippines.

Rome, Oct. 16.—The pope yesterday received in farewell audience Archbishop Guidi, the apostolic delegate in the Philippines, and his secretary, Father O'Connor, who, it is now announced, leave here Oct. 17 and embark at Marseilles, Oct. 19, for the Philippines islands. The pontiff impressed the archbishop with the necessity for a speedy satisfactory solution of the Philippine questions, adding that his slight acquaintance with Governor Taft was sufficient to convince him the interests of the church had no need to fear injustice. The archbishop promised to do his utmost to carry out his instructions.

ACCUSED OF BLEVINS' MURDER.

A Contracting Painter Arrested on Confession of a Man In Kansas.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 16.—Charged with the murder of City Treasurer John Blevins in his office on the night of Jan. 7, 1890, Frank J. Field, a contracting painter, of Wicklow street, East End Pittsburg, is a prisoner at City Hall. He was arrested at his home at 5:30 yesterday morning by Officer James McKissick, of New Castle, who brought him here on a Pennsylvania train, arriving at 10:30, city time. Field was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Charles McClaren, of this city.

Some months ago H. R. Peek, of Gorham, Kan., wrote to the mayor of New Castle that he had information that would clear up the mystery. Little attention was paid to the letter at the time. McClaren, however, had formerly lived in Kansas and knew Peek. After some correspondence he recently went there. He asserts that he has evidence that will convict the prisoner.

According to the story, the crime was committed by Frank J. Field and a brother, Judson Field, who died about a year ago, after writing a confession of the crime and signing it in the presence of witnesses. This confession is said to be highly sensational, inasmuch as it reveals a conspiracy and the complicity of others than the field brothers. More arrests, it is likely, will be made. It is said that the confession is accompanied by evidence in the shape of papers stolen from the city treasurer.

Field when arrested exhibited little agitation and accompanied the officer without resistance. He protested his innocence of the crime. Upon his arrival here he was taken to the office of Alderman Gilliland, where the information was read to him.

The information alleges murder as the result of a conspiracy between Judson and Frank J. Field and persons whose names are to the complainant unknown. "I am not guilty," said Field, who was trembling violently. "It is 20 years since I was in New Castle before. I passed through the city once since then with the Tenth regiment. Who do you say was murdered?" When the name of John Blevins was repeated he said that he had never heard it.

President Acted, After Conference

Yesterday With Mitchell, and Last Night, With Messrs. Perkins and Bacon, Partners of J. Pierpont Morgan—The Commission Composed of Brigadier General John M. Wilson, E. W. Parker, of Washington, D. C., Connected With the Geological Survey; Judge George Gray, of Delaware, Judge of a United States District Court; E. E. Clark, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Grand Chief of the Order of Railway Conductors; Thomas H. Watkins, of Scranton, Pa.; Bishop John L. Spaulding, of Peoria, and Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of Labor.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The great anthracite coal strike is settled at last. A commission of six persons, with a seventh, Mr. Carroll D. Wright, as recorder, will adjust differences between operators and miners. President Mitchell, of the Miners' Union, will take the necessary measures to call the strike off. The president will urge immediate resumption of mining, and operators are expected to begin next week.

POINTED QUESTIONS ARE ASKED

By Republican State Chairman Dick, of Tom Johnson Famous Single Taxer and Tax Dodger.

Columbus, October 16.—(Special)—Chairman Dick, of the Republican state executive committee, has addressed the following open letter to Tom L. Johnson:

Sir—In a speech made by you in the national house of representatives on the 11th day of January, 1894, you stated that you were a steel mill manufacturer and that your mill made about one-third of all the steel rails produced in the United States. It further appeared that said business was being carried on in Johnstown, Pa., under the name of the Johnson company, and the business was so profitable and established on such a firm basis that you advocated removing all tariff from steel rails and putting them on the free list.

The laws of Ohio required you to make return of your interest in that company and to pay taxes on it to the state of Ohio. Why did you fail to do so? Was it a mere oversight, or did you set yourself above the laws of the state and refuse to do so? Will you please explain your attitude on this important question?

You are also charged with being interested at various times within the past few years in the following foreign corporations:

The Johnson Rolling Mill company.
The Johnstown & Stony Creek Railway company.

The Allentown & Lehigh Valley Railway company.

The Detroit Citizens Railway company.

The Buffalo Traction company.

Numerous traction interests in Brooklyn and New York and New Jersey, with the management of which you were identified.

Is this statement true? If true, when did you ever list for taxation in Ohio any of your holdings in any of these concerns? If not, why not?

Are you not, by your attorney's admission, a "tax dodger" for failing to list for taxation your $20,000 worth of acknowledged stock in the Johnstown Passenger Railway company? Have you not likewise dodged the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned in your steel rail mill at Johnstown, Pa.? Have you not, to the extent in which you have escaped and avoided the payment of your just taxes on the stock or other holdings you owned, increased the taxes of, and so defrauded, every other taxpayer, laborer, mechanic or merchant in Ohio? Are you in any better position than the railroads and other corporations you condemn for doing the same thing?

You are currently reported to be a very rich man, and it is even said that you have the good fortune to be a multi-millionaire. The expensive paraphernalia used by you in your present tour of the state, your well-known liberality and many and even magnificent charities, are evidence of considerable means. You are not known to be the owner of any real estate nor interested in any corporations organized and doing business solely in the state. You have disposed of at a very high figure, it is said, the steel mill at Lorain, O., in which you were largely interested. Your share of the proceeds of that transaction, whether represented by money (except greenbacks), bonds or stocks of foreign corporations, should have been returned for taxation. Did you ever pay any taxes on a single dollar of it?

You said in your meeting at Lorain: "I am no longer interested in your steel plant. I came here once and joined you in making money for myself and you. I hope we both succeeded."

It is no secret that you were successful. Did you pay your just share of taxation on the success you achieved there?

At your meeting in Tiffin, Sept. 27, you said in response to a question:

"I will tell you how I made my money. I made it through franchises. I never got a franchise of my own in my life. I went around buying them from the people and did not know what they were really worth. That is the way I got my money."

Did you ever pay any taxes in Ohio upon these properties organized under the laws of other states and located outside of this state, or upon the great "salable value" added to them by these franchises secured from the "suckers"? In every case that these were no Ohio corporations and their property not located in Ohio, the Ohio laws require all such stocks to be listed for taxation in Ohio by every Ohio holder. Did you ever thus list any of these stocks? Particularly since you have repeatedly ordered the county auditors to assess railroads in Ohio upon their "salable value" as shown by the market quotations of their stocks and bonds, did you ever yourself list any of your own outside stocks for taxation upon the basis of their "salable value" increased by the franchises, in the same way that you insist upon for other people? Why did you not do so? Did you consider the state of Ohio the biggest "sucker" of all?

Are you in a position to accuse others of evading just taxation? Are corporations that escape their fair share of taxation any more guilty than individuals that do the same?

Respectfully,
CHARLES DICK.

Bishop John L. Spaulding, of Peoria, Ill. The president has added Bishop Spaulding's name to the commission.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright has been appointed recorder of the commission.

Mitchell Will Talk This Morning.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—When Mr. Mitchell learned the personnel of the commission early this morning and was asked for a further statement he replied that he would have nothing further to say until morning.

Previously, before he knew of the personnel of the commission, he said to reporters that the whole matter would be laid before the joint meeting of the three executive boards of the anthracite region, at their meeting at 10 o'clock this morning.

In reply to the question if he would comply with the president's request that coal mining be resumed immediately, he said he would make a more definite answer when he knew more about the matter.

Miners Must Vote Upon It.

After his interview with the reporters in the hotel lobby, Mr. Mitchell went to his office on the second floor, where he was closeted with Mr. Wilson. While there the reporter of the Associated Press again went to him for further enlightenment on the situation regarding immediate resumption.

sumption, and he made the positive statement that a delegate convention must first pass upon the question of calling off the strike. This was also before he knew the personnel of the commission. From the time of the calling of the convention to its adjournment is only a matter of three or four days. There is hardly any doubt that a convention will stand by any agreement he has made to President Roosevelt.

MINERS' TRUSTEES CONVENE.

Called to Meet This Morning by President Mitchell, After White House Conference.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—The executive board members of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers of America will hold a joint meeting here at 10 o'clock this morning to consider a proposition for ending the strike which President Mitchell will lay before them with a view of calling a delegate convention of the striking mine workers to pass upon it. The call was sent out yesterday afternoon as a result of a telephonic message sent by Mr. Mitchell after his conference with President Roosevelt at Washington. It was difficult last night to say what the outcome will be, but one thing seems to be sure, and that is that considerable progress is being made toward the end of the struggle.

Likely Got President's Interpretation.

No one here knew last night the exact nature of the proposition Mr. Mitchell brought back with him from the national capital, and it was probable no one would know it excepting the three district presidents and National Secretary-Treasurer Wilson until the strike leader laid it before the three boards. In his public statement of Tuesday night the strike leader said nothing would be done until he was in possession of the full meaning of the operators' proposed arbitration plan, and it is likely he received the president's interpretation yesterday. It was understood that at least a majority of the board members was opposed to the plan, but if the president gave Mr. Mitchell an interpretation of the proposal, there is a likelihood that a convention will be called to consider it. There is a general belief that a convention will be called, no matter what sort of a proposition is laid before the boards. Some of the miners are of the opinion that Mr. Mitchell may have offered a compromise proposition by which the operators and miners would have equal representation on an arbitration commission. A great majority of the rank and file are still opposed, like most of their board members, to accepting the operators' proposition, as they now understand it.

Composition of Conference Today.

The joint conference today will be made up of 37 persons. Those who will be present will be Mr. Mitchell, National Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, who arrived here yesterday; the three anthracite members of the national executive board, the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of each district, the seven board members from each of the upper and lower districts and the six board members of the middle district.

If a convention is held it will probably be called together within four days. While Hazleton is more centrally located, there is a probability that Wilkesbarre would be the convention city, because headquarters are here. About 800 delegates would be in attendance. Mr. Mitchell, following precedents, would be elected president, with Mr. Wilson, if he remains in the east, acting as secretary.

HERMIT'S LIFE LED BY RICH MAN

An Eccentric Recluse Died in Harrison County Worth $400,000.

BACHELOR AND LIVED ALONE

Avoided Company And Dressed Poorly. A Carpetless Hut And Primitive Furniture the Place That He Called His Home—A Strange Character.

Over in Harrison county there died a rich man, who had lived what was called by his close neighbors a hermit's life, and as the heirs are closing up the large estate, which will be disposed of to the relatives, the subject of getting so large an estate is full of interest, for the man made it himself by hard work, patient toil, self denial, and it might well be said miserly habits, says the New Philadelphia Democrat.

The estate left by Farrington Barwick consisted of about 4,000 acres of land in Harrison county. It has been left to nephews and it is estimated at about $400,000, a nice sum of money to be given to men whose only claim to it lies in the fact that they are blood relatives and the nearest of kin to the dead man who made and saved the money.

The mode of the dead man's living is said to take us back a century, to the time when the back woodsman struggled to get a home in the deep and wildest forest, gaining it by continuous use of the ax, and having nothing but the most ancient furniture.

The man has passed to his reward. He was probably laid away in a cheap coffin if his wishes were respected. That coffin was just as good in a sense as one costing many times as much—just as well too that it was so, for pride was no feature in the dead man's makeup. He had plenty to eat, but no one nowadays would call it a sumptuous repast, in fact many would criticize the scantily dressed table. He coveted himself none of the things which wealth generally brings. He did not travel. He lived in an unpretentious home or rather a hut. He wore no fine clothes, being content and happiest in blouse, overalls, slouch hat and well seasoned brogans. He was a bachelor and never knew the supreme joy of being husband and father. He, however, experienced the delight, peculiar to some men, of seeing his few dollars grow into a heroic pile. Accumulation of wealth was his chief desire, and in this he was successful beyond an ordinary degree. He was retired in disposition, doing no particular harm to any one, and died as he lived. Like the hermit of old dressed in scanty attire, living on rough food, he was timid and did not care for any company. He was apparently fearful that some one would attempt to steal his savings.

A fire place was his cook stove; a crane on which to hang his kettle hung over the embers of the logs and thus he boiled his meats. The furniture about the hut was of the oldest kind and his floors never felt the refitting influence of a carpet. He was skeptical and never welcomed the way farer and as a rule never invited him into his place.

A brother and sister stayed with the old man and cared for him during the latter days of his life, but they too have gone to their graves since his departure.

The old gentleman was honest in his dealings, but he lived for himself alone and his physical condition plainly showed that he denied himself many necessities in order to gain financial standing. He was grimy in appearance and this condition is said to have been preferred, in order that strangers would not suspect him of having any wealth about him. He was uneducated, as we look at it today, but he was able to count correctly every cent of his accumulated wealth, his bonds, his stocks, his notes and his cash, and in their accumulation he took infinite delight. He passed lands not knowing that he owned them, but he knew his stocks, notes, bonds, etc., as well as the average woman knows her best piece of furniture.

Now that he is gone his life is a lesson to the living. Practically he left no impress except on the sordid business world. Alas, there are too many like him and the number is growing rapidly as we are going into the commercial age. It would be better, however, if we enjoyed ourselves to the fullest extent of our resources; that we would assist others in their struggle for happiness, than that the whole sum of our lives should be built on the sordid desire for gold and silver.

ROBBING UNCLE SAM

A. Capel Said to Have Overdrawn Amount of Foreign Money Orders at Salem Postoffice.

Salem, October 16.—Constable Cash Johnson yesterday arrested A. Capel, a young man who resides near this city and works at the Buckeye, on a serious charge. The warrant for Capel's arrest was sworn out before Justice Lease by Hiram K. Green, deputy postmaster at Salem, and charges the prisoner with stealing $92.52, the property of the United States.

Capel, it is alleged, received some foreign money orders and in cashing them he was overpaid in the amount mentioned.

GREAT SPECIAL FEATURES

Were the Performances of the Guide-
less Horse And the Trained Dogs
—Interesting Track Events And the Horses Which Won Them.

Very much in contrast to the first day of the Tri-State fair being held at Columbian Park, yesterday was marked by clear and pleasant weather, a fast track and an enormous crowd.

There were lovers of racing present from the rural districts, Steubenville, Wheeling and Wellsburg and numerous other cities besides East Liverpool. All expressed themselves as being highly pleased at the fair in every particular, and the interest was unabated during the entire program.

The displays of stock were viewed with more than the ordinary interest and the management is being complimented on every hand for its effort to make this department of the fair a success. The special attractions pulled off between heats in the afternoon could not be excelled. Cute, the guideless wonder, with a record of 2:05 1/4, performed in a remarkable manner. She paced a mile in 2:10, and anything to beat her exhibition has never been seen by local people. Without a sign or a motion the pretty animal cleared the mile without a break, coming in under the wire like a flash of lightning. She was certainly a favorite after the unusual performance.

Rex, a dog owned by Prof. Spoerhase, also performed a remarkable feat when he drove two horses, Hummingbird and Nan Wilkes, a mile in 2:42. The dog sat on the seat of the sulky as calm as an old driver and handled the reins in great style. Another attraction, in which Max drove Hummingbird and Rex held the lines on Nan Wilkes in a race, was a novel feature. Hummingbird won the race in 2:22. All of these attractions were presented this afternoon and gave repeated satisfaction.

When the first race was announced by Starter Gurney, one of the best in the country, nearly 2,000 people were standing on the hillside. They gave evidence of delight and a more orderly crowd could not be desired. Lieutenant Garcia, owned by Dr. Kinsey, of Wheeling, won the race without a struggle, coming under the wire first three consecutive times. Fairplay got second money in the race and did well, but was outclassed.

In the 2:24 trotting event which was for a purse of $500, Field Day Greeting won in a walk. It is said that this race equalled many of those seen on the grand circuit tracks.

The running race had five entries, but only four started. Bessie Brown, owned by A. E. Kramer, of Pittsburgh, won the race, and only two heats were run, but it is thought by those who witnessed the race that if Uco had been let out that the result would have been different. The judges claim that they could not detect any holding back, but the crowd thought differently.

The summary of the races follow:
2:40 class, pace; purse, $200; 3 best in 5.

A NOTED GUEST

Local Heptasophs Entertained the Supreme Archon Tuesday Evening.

Ogden Conclave No. 227, Heptasophs, entertained a distinguished guest at their regular meeting in Fowler hall Tuesday night, in the person of Morris G. Cohen, supreme archon of the order in the United States. Mr. Cohen came down Tuesday afternoon from his home in Pittsburgh to be present at this meeting, and was met and entertained by several of the leading members of the local conclave, which was a very pleasant gentleman, thoroughly posted on the history, work and mysteries of this well known fraternal order.

Preceding the principal address of the evening by Supreme Archon Cohen there were a number of short talks by members of the local conclave, which were both enjoyable and instructive. Mr. Cohen spoke for more than an hour, recounting the past work of the order and prospects for the future. It was a masterly address, pleasing to all present.

At the conclusion of the speaking a fine banquet was served by the Arcade caterers. Quite a number of visiting members were present from contiguous towns.

REPORTED A GUSHER

Oil Well on the Warren Farm at Knoxville Said to Be Good for 360 Barrels.

Oil well No. 1 on the Andrew Warren farm at Knoxville, was shot on Tuesday night and is reported to be flowing over 15 barrels an hour or at the rate of 360 barrels a day. The well is owned by the Consolidated Oil company, of Pittsburgh, and was drilled in by C. M. Howard.

A few weeks ago the rig was burned down and the tools dropped into the hole. After considerable trouble and much expense the tools were recovered and the drilling was resumed. On Tuesday night the well was shot and the stream of oil spouted high above the derrick. The gusher has occasioned no little excitement in the field.

Four new mammoth tanks are being built and arrangements are under way to take care of the oil. It is quite likely that another pumping station will be established there. Every piece of property in the vicinity has been leased excepting about 30 acres owned by John Cooper and most of the leases are said to be held by C. M. Crawford.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Mason Comes Back.—At the Ohio A. M. E. conference at Dayton, Rev. J. H. Mason, of this city, was returned to his present pastorate for another year.

New Choirmaster.—St. Stephen's church on Fourth street has appointed a new choirmaster, to succeed Miss Florence Everson. Prof. Berg, of Wellsville, will hereafter have charge and will assume his new position in another week.

Wendling's Lecture.—This evening at 8 o'clock the first of the fifth annual high school lectures will be delivered in the opera house. Hon. Geo. R. Wendling will be the speaker of the evening and will address his audience upon "The Imperial Book."

Road in Bad Shape.—Several complaints were heard today about the condition of the East Liverpool and Wellsville county road near Wellsville. Several weeks ago a landslide almost obliterated a part of the road and it is almost impossible for vehicles to pass. So far no attempt has been made to repair the damage.

Here on a Visit.—Mr. and Mrs. William Bolton, of Cleveland, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and are guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harker, in the East End. Mrs. Bolton has been ill for almost two years, and the best medical skill of Cleveland has been unable to improve her condition. She is now somewhat improved, but Mr. Bolton recently decided to take her to a Philadelphia physician. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton were former residents of this city.

SOCIAL EVENTS

MOUNTFORD-SIMPSON

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS PEALING IN THE EAST END.

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford Scene of Pretty Ceremony.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, of Ohio avenue, East End, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Florence to Ernest Simpson, of this city. Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the Presbyterian church officiated.

The bridal party descended the stairway to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. Swan. Miss Margaret Conover, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore white lawn and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. James Hall, of Trenton, N. J., a cousin of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She was beautifully attired in white china silk, trimmed with rich old lace. The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore taffeta trimmed in point Venice lace and medallions. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Among the invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. Harker; Mrs. James Hall, of Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Maguire, of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Catherine Simpson, Mrs. Pollie Simpson, Miss Maud Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Gass, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carson, Mrs. Conover, Miss Margaret Conover, Mr. and Mrs. S. Frost, Miss Annie Shingler, Miss Gertrude Salt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter, of Philadelphia; Mr. Fred Mountford, Mr. Elijah Mountford, Mr. Elias Ferguson, Mr. Elliott Frost, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Some of the presents included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountford, silver tea set; Mr. Elijah Mountford, rocking chair; Mrs. Simpson, knives and forks and handsome walnut bookcase; Mrs. R. Simpson, silver spoons and dessert spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Gass, large cut glass berry bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Carson, silver carving set; Mr. and Mrs. Frost, gold berry spoon; Mr. Elliott Frost, handsome cut glass bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Harker, silver sugar spoon; Miss Annie Shingler, cut glass and sugar tongs; Mr. Fred Mountford, gold clock; Miss Woodward, butter knife and sugar shell.

A cablegram was received extending the congratulations of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mountford and Mrs. Booth, of Hanley, England, uncle and aunt of the bride.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An Enjoyable Affair Given in Honor of Miss Mamie Harker Last Evening.

The party which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harker gave for their daughter, Mamie, upon the anniversary of her fourteenth birthday last evening, was an event which will long be remembered by the hostess and her many friends.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive peanuts, for which five tables were arranged. By reason of the dextrous playing, Miss Lucile Hoffman won the first prize, which was a handsome silver spoon, and Miss Edna Webber was awarded the "Consolation," which was a tiny piece of statuary. At 9:30 an elaborate luncheon was served, after which the thirty or more girls and boys turned their steps homeward.

Miss Mamie was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, which demonstrate the good-will of her many young friends.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW

Ladies of Y. M. C. A. Arranging For An Elaborate Exhibition Soon.

A chrysanthemum show is soon to be held by the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. A meeting of the auxiliary has been called for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for the event. The date will be fixed and a committee will be selected to have charge.

The proceeds of the flower fair will go toward the debt fund which was contracted in the refurbishing of the building. The ladies are very enthusiastic and expect to have one of the most complete displays of chrysanthemums ever shown in this section.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Cora McBride entertained a number of her friends last evening at her home in the West End. Games and music were the features of the evening. A dainty luncheon was served and the young folks departed for their homes declaring Miss McBride a charming hostess.

Willing Workers' Meeting.

The Ladies' Sewing society, known as the Willing Workers of St. John's Evangelical church, held a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Shriber on Third street.

A Dinner This Evening.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark will this evening give a dinner to a few of their friends in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. Bert George and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

Go to the Tri-State Fair at Columbian Park Friday. Best racing of the week.
